Asks Aid of France in Pact To Include South and Central American Republics.

PLAN ENDANGERS
MONROE DOCTRINE

American Prestige in Western Hemisphere Imperiled by Ambitious Scheme of Il Duce.

(Copyright, 1927, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Paris, December 12.—The text of an interview Premier Benito Mussolini gave to the editor of the newspaper Tunis Dispatch, published in the capital of the French North African colony, has produced a sensation in Paris.

Proclaiming that "France and Italy are as two brothers, quarreling often, but sincerely loving each other," he called on Paris to aid him in forming a Latin bloc including Spain, Portugal and the South and Central American republics.

Great World Hegemony.

The accomplishment of the black shirt leader's dream would give the Latin leaders a world hegemony exceeding the German dream of 1914, and smashing the Monroe doctrine and the prestige of the United States in the western hemisphere.

While professing deep friendship for France, the fascist chieftain explained that Italians never could understand people of England and Russia as they do fraternal Latins.

Premier Mussolini's statements, made in Rome, reveal Il Duce's anxiety for an imminent conference with a representative of the French government—Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, Premier Raymond Poincaré, or both—as a preliminary move to the creation of the bloc envisaged.

"We were made to understand each other regardless of the Latin blood coursing in our veins," he said. "We regard the French as brothers—we must make an effort to understand the English and the difference is accentuated with the Germans—it becomes an abyss separating us from the Russians."

No Break Possible.

"That is why our relations with France can become momentarily stormy, but never develop into a break in relations."

"We certainly wish France would make a greater effort to understand us better. The newspapers of France give the impression that Italy is likely to sink at any moment into a terrible cataclysm."

"Why not recognize the discipline accepted by the people who suffered the rudest sacrifices. And as much as it is impossible to forecast the future it is realized here that the regime will endure. Accepting this will facilitate the solution of questions between us and permit the constitution of a vast Latin bloc."

"Not only the Iberian nations—Spain and Portugal—but the republics of Central America, should turn east toward Paris and Rome for guidance. Federate these multiple forces and these peoples animated by the same faith, for whom civilization is a common heritage, will assure support throughout the world and arm us against the menace of barbarism."

"Anything attempted toward a closer entente between France, United States and the Latin nations generally should be encouraged."

"We eventually will arrive there by natural forces."

The thought of the possibility of a conflict between us is absurd. No one wants it. The last time since the great war is too great and the work we have undertaken requires calm and peace. This is true everywhere, even in the Balkans."

STUDENT ATTACK BRINGS APOLOGY FROM RUMANIA

Foreign Minister Tells U.
S. Ambassador American
Beaten in Clash Provoked Outbreak.

Bucharest, December 12.—(AP)—Replying verbally to the note of protest sent by the American minister, William S. Culbertson, M. Titulescu, the Rumanian foreign minister, tonight expressed the government's deep regret and apologized for the recent assault on Wilfred N. Keller, an American-born citizen, at Oradea Mare. Titulescu, Culbertson said, asserted Keller provoked the attack by threatening students.

An investigator sent by the Rumanian government to the scene of the assault, reported Keller owned stock in a printing establishment at Oradea Mare, which published a news sheet that had printed attacks on the government and students. The latter resented and raided the printing plant.

In an argument between Keller and students, Keller is alleged to have threatened them with the whole strength of the American government and, according to the investigator, to have uttered specific threat that if he was harmed the American fleet would be called into action.

Attack, Best American.

That enraged the students, who gave Keller a bad beating. Apparently one of the most serious points in the American minister's complaint, namely, failure of the authorities at Oradea Mare to allow Keller to appeal for help to the American government, through Bucharest, was ignored by M. Titulescu.

"I think I have the case in hand, and am satisfied that the government is doing everything it can to reach a satisfactory adjustment," Culbertson told American correspondents tonight.

He added that M. Titulescu admitted the details of the attack, as already known, and did not attempt to minimize either the serious character of Keller's injuries or the lack of justification for the attack or the failure of the military and police to rescue him.

M. Titulescu also condemned unapologetically the whole anti-Semitic movement, saying that it had brought Rumania only disaster at home and abroad.

Harry Thaw Sued By Girl For $100,000

Breach of Promise Suit Is Filed by One Time
Film Extra.

Los Angeles, December 12.—(AP)—Harry K. Thaw, famous as a result of his lengthy and sensational trial for the slaying of Stanford White, was made defendant in a $100,000 breach of promise suit filed here today by Forest Hope Hall, 20, one-time film extra.

The suit accuses Thaw of being involved in a California love affair in May, 1923, at a time when court records show Thaw was an inmate of the Pennsylvania State Hospital for the Insane, except for occasional visits to his mother. After these visits to his mother, newspaper records of the case indicated, he returned promptly to the institution. He was released on April 23, 1924.

Miss Hall filed suit through her mother and guardian, Mrs. Louise Hall, of Culver City, Calif.

Eugene Haynes Offers 36-Acre Tract To Peachtree Creek Memorial Park

Architect's drawing of the projected clubhouse for the Peachtree Creek Memorial park, for which Eugene V. Haynes, prominent Atlanta real estate developer, Monday donated 36 acres to the city. The new park would provide an 18-hole golf course and other recreational facilities, according to plans. Action of Mr. Haynes Monday will be the signal for other large property holders in the vicinity to make further contributions to add to the 110-acre tract adjoining the Haynes property and now owned by the city, in the event the Haynes gift is accepted, it was said.

Action Is Important Step In Advancement of Pro- posed 500-Acre Park on North Side.

Another step in establishment of a large and beautiful park memorial and recreation center, to be known as the Peachtree Creek Memorial park, was taken Monday when Eugene V. Haynes, prominent real estate promoter, offered for park purposes a 36-acre tract adjacent to the 110-acre now owned by the city. Plans call for a 500-acre park to be devoted to commemoration of the famous Peachtree creek battle and for an 18-hole golf course, swimming pools, club houses and other recreational facilities.

The proffer was taken as a challenge to the city of Atlanta and Fulton county to accept it as a part of a gigantic memorial development, which has been recommended as a civil war memorial by a special committee selected by congress. Acceptance of the offer would mean the city and county would be one of the most beautiful and largest county and municipally owned parks in the entire south.

Plans provide that the park shall extend along the banks of Peachtree creek from Peachtree road to the Chattahoochee river, and that it shall contain about 500 acres when completed. The contribution of Mr. Haynes represents a donation of $100,000 in land value, the property in the vicinity being valued at the market at from $2,000 to $3,000 an acre.

Legal Bars Removed.

Every legal obstacle which would prevent the city and county from cooperating in purchasing and maintaining park property jointly, even though it might lie outside the city limits, has been removed by acts of the 1927 Georgia legislature.

TWO POLICEMEN SHOT IN HERRIN

Day Chief Is Wounded
When Car of Gunmen
Circles City Hall for Second Time.

Herrin, Ill., December 12.—(AP)—Bullets from a speeding automobile struck down Elmer McCormick, patrolman, and John Stamm, day chief of police, as the men were standing in front of the city hall here tonight. McCormick was struck in the breast and neck and is seriously wounded. Stamm was shot through the shoulder. The car circled the city hall block twice, its occupants firing rifles both times.

Stamm was shot when the gunmen made their second round. McCormick, who is a brother of Mayor Marshall McCormick, went down on the first volley.

The motive back of the latest shooting in this community is not known. Herrin noted for sporadic outbreaks and killings since the mine riots of 1921 has been quiet for more than a year. Authorities, hurriedly interviewed, could assign no reason for the shooting of the two officers.

The automobile from which the shots were fired, sped out of town on state highway No. 13 in the direction of Murphysboro and Carbondale.

Your 3rd Opportunity Presented Here Today

BY BILL SHIPPEN.
To you we bring this "Ten Opportunities" appeal in behalf of the city's ten worthiest charity cases. On its result ten defenseless widows and fifty young children depend for life itself during the coming year.

They lack food and shelter. Without your aid they may die, lacking your support their bodies will surely waste away.

A dollar or $100 from you will be a big help. Five hundred dollars or even less will secure a family for an entire year. Donations mailed to the "Ten Opportunities" Editor, in care of The Constitution, will go directly to the Family Welfare society to be administered, without one cent's overhead, to the "opportunity" you specify.

SIXTY PERSONS DEPEND ON YOU.

This appeal is launched at a time when the spirit of giving is most responsive to the needs of others; but its purpose is to give far more than Christmas dinners. Money raised in this way will provide ten families with warm clothing, dry roofs for the next twelve months, and fuel to warm their homes.

Allotments allowed them by the combined charities of the city do not provide more than $5 a week, and, in many cases, much less. This will not keep their bodies and souls together.

Only two of the mothers are strong enough to earn outside, neither makes more than $10 a week.

Tuberculosis has invaded virtually every one of the homes. In one of them, the white plague, feeding on an impoverished diet, has spread infection to every member.

MOTHERS CAN WIN—WITH YOUR HELP.

Monday the writer visited each of the "Ten Opportunity" homes. In them dwell women and children of the highest type. Every one is a worthy member of society. The children are bright, intelligent and responsive. The mothers stout-hearted and capable of caring for their little broods, if your aid is available to them.

This "Ten Opportunities" fund has worked wonders in the past. Monies from it have gone exclusively to those capable of self-support when helped to their feet. Little boys have grown to be wage earners, little girls have become responsible women.

Last year 49 children were cared for by money raised through "Ten Opportunities." Handicapped by poverty, yet they lived contented, happy lives, growing physically stronger, deepening the ties of love which bound them together in the highest type of sharing responsibilities, and successfully competing with more fortunate pupils in school and on the playground.

These 49 children have been helped by a year's normal living, toward assuming a place in the common life of the community. Today they are better fitted in

ENTOMOLOGY FUND RECEIPT CANCELED

Refusal To Honor Talmadge Check Causes
Action; Commissioner
Satisfied, He Says.

State Treasurer W. J. Spear Monday canceled a receipt for $3,044.76 he had given Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture and ex-officio chairman of the state board of entomology. The receipt was canceled when a check Mr. Talmadge had given the treasury for this sum was returned by the Atlanta and Lowry National bank with the notation that it had not been countersigned by W. L. Neese, assistant secretary and treasurer of the board.

Action of the treasurer in canceling the receipt closed the incident in which Mr. Talmadge attempted to turn this money into the state treasury on a check which he, alone, had signed. The attempt was made during the controversy which has developed over the direction of affairs of the board of entomology with Mr. Talmadge on one side and J. P. Hoeg and Dr. Lyman Veeder, associate members, on the other side.

Mr. Talmadge issued a statement Monday after the treasurer had canceled the receipt in which he said "the bank did the only thing it could do."

The Atlanta and Lowry National bank notified Mr. Talmadge, E. Lee Worsham, state entomologist and Mr. Neese that it would not honor any checks on the account of the board of entomology unless they were countersigned by W. L. Neese as assistant secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Talmadge issued the following statement Monday:

"The bank did the only thing that it could do after disagreement of officials. The secretary of the board instructed the bank not to pay the check without its being countersigned by W. L. Neese as assistant secretary and treasurer of the board of entomology. I refused to recognize W. L. Neese as assistant secretary and treasurer."

Without Proper Barracks

Recommendation to the legislature that no state prisoners be allotted to those counties unable to provide permanent barracks was hinted as a procedure of the legislative committee on state prisons at the next session, according to prominent members of several house subcommittees which met in Atlanta Monday to compile reports for presentation to the committee itself.

Emmett Williams, member of the house and member of one of the committees, stated Monday that it was his information that the general meeting of the subcommittees soon will consider the presentation of this recommendation.

ALDERMEN REJECT HEATING CONTRACT FOR NEW SCHOOLS

Aldermanic Board Approves Other Items for Erection of 5 Schools;
Vote Church Purchase.

Declining to approve award of the heating contract for the first five projects to be constructed from school bond funds to Clare & Co. and Seely company, the aldermanic board Monday afternoon at a special called meeting approved other measures in connection with erection of the schools, and passed, subject to reconsideration, proposed purchase of property of the Central Avenue Methodist church at a price of $80,000.

Bid of the Howard P. Foley company for electrical work on the first six school projects was approved with one dissenting vote, and was sent to Mayor I. N. Ragdale for his signature.

Peter B. Bogart, local manager of the American Warming and Ventilating company, appeared before the aldermanic board and argued that the board of education had recommended a heating contract which was higher than his bid. He also stated that the guarantee of the Clare and Seely companies failed to furnish adequate protection.

Tactical Error.

Proponents of acceptance of the school board's recommendation relative to the heating contract made a tactical error in insisting that the motion to accept should be voted on instead of a motion to reject. The vote was four to accept and four to reject. If the motion to reject had been laid before the body the bid of the Clare and Seely companies would have been accepted, because it would not have been carried by a tie vote.

The board passed by an overwhelming majority the proposal to purchase the church property, owned by negroes, but Alderman William B. Hartsfield, of the third ward, served notice of reconsideration.

"I am voting against the purchase on the grounds that the city attorney has ruled that the city has no right to acquire any property it does not actually need for viaduct construction, because the amount is $20,000 in excess of the valuation placed on it by the city tax assessors; because it is $10,000 more than the valuation of the city's agent, who is attempting to save the city money in negotiating for reasonable purchase of property we need in the viaduct area, and because the money would come from a fund which at this time is not in existence—the $400,000 contribution of the Georgia Power company," Mr. Hartsfield said.

Want Removal.

Proponents of the purchase contended that the city should acquire the church in order to assure removal of the negro church from that vicinity, and contended that the city would not lose a single dime on the transaction, but would actually save money.

"I want it to be distinctly understood that I am not opposing removal of the negro church if we can legally do it at a reasonable price," Mr. Hartsfield added.

JOB OF GOVERNOR SAVED BY WOMAN

Oklahoma Solons Balked
by Call for Militia Plan
To Renew Fight on Executive Today.

Oklahoma City, December 12.—(United News.)—Governor Henry S. Johnston mobilized the state militia to break up one session of the legislature which threatened to impeach him today, but learned before nightfall that another attempt to throw him out of office would be made on Tuesday.

Two companies of state troopers met the lawmakers at the doors of the statehouse and turned them back before they could go into session to consider charges against Johnston's administration.

Meeting later in a downtown hotel the "rebel" legislators agreed to assemble again on Tuesday morning, at which time they will add a charge of "unwarranted interference with the legislature" to those which they already are prepared to prefer against the governor.

Lethal Quantities.

AUTOPSY OBJECTED

Druggist Testifies That
Harris Hayes Purchased
60 Grains of Strychnine
in September, 1921.

Blakely, Ga., December 12.—(AP)—Testimony that Amos Hayes and his 17-year-old wife, of Detroit, died of poisoning several weeks apart and that both manifested identical symptoms in their illnesses was introduced by the state today at the opening of the trial of Harris Hayes, Amos' father, on a charge of murder.

Through witnesses, it also sought to show that Hayes, a prominent planter of this section, had purchased a quantity of poison years before and that he objected to an autopsy on the body of his daughter-in-law which was ordered by the attending physician when he became suspicious as to the cause of her death.

The death of the couple, which followed that of James Hayes, another son, over a period of a few weeks last summer after all three were stricken at separate times with a mysterious malady at the Hayes home near here, led to an investigation which brought indictments charging murder against the elder Hayes and his wife.

Hayes, who is 60 years of age, is being tried first in connection with the death of his daughter-in-law.

Prosecution Scores Early.

The prosecution scored early in the trial when Judge M. J. Yeomans upheld its contention that testimony relating to the manner of death of Amos and James as well as the young Mrs. Hayes also was admissible. The court's ruling was made over general objections after Solicitor General B. T. Castellow had declared the state intended to show that the cases were inter-related and that the elder Hayes expected to "come into life insurance money through the commission of the deed."

The testimony arose during the testimony of the first state's witness, Dr. S. P. Holland, who attended

ATTEMPT TO BOMB MEXICAN SHRINE CHARGE BY POLICE

Mexico City, December 12.—(United News.)—A bomb, 18 inches thick and six inches thick, was found late today in the basilica of the Virgin of Guadalupe while thousands of Catholics were in the vicinity.

It had been attached to a candlestick. The man who carried the bomb to the chapel, had attempted to light the candle but failed.

His hurried exit attracted suspicion and investigators found a powder magazine fuse connected to the candle.

HARRY DODD HURT IN AUTOS CRASH

Harry Dodd, of 205 Peachtree circle, United States referee in bankruptcy, narrowly escaped serious injury and his brother, Eugene Dodd, of 1117 West Peachtree, was severely shaken up and bruised, when an automobile in which they were riding collided with another automobile on Peachtree road near the Seaboard bridge early Monday night.

Both men were rushed to St. Joseph hospital in the private ambulance of Blanchard Brothers, where doctors stated they were not seriously injured. Eugene Dodd was not seriously shaken up and bruised, hospital reports showed, while Harry Dodd received a sprained back, a deep laceration on his head and other cuts and bruises.

According to reports given hospital attaches, Eugene Dodd was driving and as he turned the car around it was struck by a car belonging to Edward Lyle, of 13 Brookhaven drive, driven by a negro chauffeur, whose name was not learned. County police are investigating the accident.

Two persons received minor injuries early Monday night when automobile mishaps caused by wet streets and headlights from other cars. Mrs. George Richards, of 158 East Thirteenth street, was treated at Davis Fischer hospital, while Mrs. R. A. Hiller, of 430 Marietta road, received treatment at St. Joseph hospital. Neither gave hospital attaches any details of the mishaps, and police have no report of them, although Mrs. Hiller is reported to have been knocked down near Inman yards.

Mrs. A. G. Evans, of 992 West Peachtree street, was treated at Davis Fischer hospital for injuries received when struck down by a street car on West Peachtree at Eleventh street, according to police reports.

The report was filed with Captain A. J. Holcombe by Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Aila, who were near by at the time of the accident. Details of the mishap were lacking in the report, and Mrs. Evans was not badly injured, it was stated.

Washington, December 12.—(AP)—Frank O. Lowden called on President Coolidge at the White House today to pay his respects.

CHAMBER TO NAME OFFICERS WEDNESDAY

The new board of directors will be organized and officers of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year will be elected Wednesday at 12:30 o'clock at a luncheon meeting of the directors of the chamber, it was announced by George W. West, president.

Directors for 1928, including "hold-overs" and the newly-elected members, are:

Philip H. Alston, L. H. Beall, Milton W. Bell, G. C. Bowden, F. L. Butler, William Candler, Milton Dargatz, Jr., Henderson Hallman, George S. Harris, F. E. Kaemper, H. R. Kennedy, J. S. Koonce, Robert S. Parker, Horace Russell, Robert Strickland, Jr., and Cator Woolford.

Ex-officio directors are Edwin S. John and George M. Hope, of the Fulton county commission; I. N. Ragsdale, mayor of Atlanta; W. D. Hoffman, past president, and Miss Lois Manning, president of the women's division.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR W. H. HARRISON

Funeral services for W. H. Harrison, a Confederate veteran who died Sunday at the residence, 467 Venable street, were held Monday morning. The Rev. W. H. Houghton, the Rev. J. S. Strickland and the Rev. W. H. Bell officiated and interment was in Crest Lawn cemetery. Members of the Agoda class of the Baptist Tabernacle served as pallbearers.

He had been a resident of Atlanta for many years and served with distinction during the war between the states. He was a member of the 19th Georgia regiment and served under the commands of General Robert E. Lee and General "Stonewall" Jackson.

Renominated.

Washington, December 12.—(AP)—President Coolidge today renominated G. Wallace W. Hanger, of Washington, D. C., to be a member of the railroad board of mediation.

CHINESE WAGING FIGHT FOR CANTON

Hongkong, December 12.—(United News.)—A counter-attack against the reds who are in control of Canton was launched today by General Li Fuh-lung, "king of Honan Island."

Li's troops crossed the Canton river and recaptured the police headquarters, where scores of police were reported killed Sunday in engagements with the troops of General Chang Fak-wei, the Canton chief.

Messages from Canton said that 20,000 labor communists, with the assistance of revolting troops, participated in the Sunday coup, disarming the police, looting and burning business establishments.

All government officials fled to Honan Island where General Li began his counter-attack.

LOTING OF CANTON MARKS REVOLUTION.

Shanghai, China, December 12.—(AP)—Canton City has been the scene of another revolution, which, as reported in dispatches from Hongkong and other points, has placed it in the power of the communists after serious fighting, looting and incendiarism.

Apparently the attempt of the latest Canton dictator, Chang Fak-wei, to disarm and disband bodies of troops suspected of treachery led to heavy fighting in the city. The bulk of the Cantonese troops were absent at the time on the West river, preparing to meet an invading force from Kwangsi. Advantage was taken of the confusion and 20,000 communists engaged in an uprising, disarmed the police and seized control of the city.

Strike Causes Trouble.

The situation was complicated further by the seamen's and railwaymen's strikes, which, cutting off communication with points outside the city, has added to the difficulty of learning the exact facts. One report has it that Chang fled aboard a warship. This report, however, seems doubtful, since persons who arrived here late today from Canton reported that Chang Fak-wei's troops launched an attack across the river from Honan, opposite Canton City yesterday and apparently obtained a foothold and that they bombarded Canton this morning.

The Chinese gunboats, it is said, remain loyal, but anxiety is felt for foreigners threatened by the reds. Owing to the nervous tension arising from the communist outbreak in Canton, together with evidence that the communists are actively inciting the masses at Shanghai, British, American and Japanese military contingents are assisting the police in maintaining peace in the settlement and by patrolling the streets tonight.

U. S. Ships Arrive.

Two United States gunboats, the Sacramento and the Pampana, were at Canton today after the outbreak of disorder within the city. The gunboat Asherline was en route from Hongkong.

There are between 30 and 40 American in the Canton district. The gunboats attempted to communicate with all of them.

The trouble appeared to have arisen from a communist move within the ranks of the present faction controlling Canton. No anti-foreign sentiment was evident.

Advices from Hongkong stated that the disorders were "suspected of being instigated by Russians."

C. C. Wu, foreign minister of the Nanking nationalist government, said:

"The uprising was undoubtedly directed by Russians."

RESERVE BANK WAR BEGINS IN DALLAS

Dallas, Texas, December 12.—(AP)—Presentation of evidence in effort to prove that Lynn P. Talley, governor of the federal reserve bank at Dallas, does not understand the problems confronting the small town banker or is out of sympathy with them, and therefore should be removed from office, was started here today at a special meeting of the bank's board of directors.

The meetings, the first of three to be held here, was behind closed doors with approximately 100 bankers of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana present. About 45 was said to represent the board of directors of the board of directors, announced this morning that no information concerning the proceedings would be given until after the hearing is over.

The first meeting of the disaffected bankers was held in Fort Worth on September 28. Subsequent meetings have been at Lubbock, Abilene and Corsicana.

At these meetings the bankers charged Governor Talley's policies were not in keeping with the needs of small town member banks. It was charged that the Dallas bank was calling in loans from member banks forced farmers to liquidate their assets with a resulting loss of millions of dollars from disposing of cotton at the lowest price.

Final decision in the controversy rests with the federal reserve board at Washington.

FRANCE PUBLISHES BUDGET ESTIMATES

Berlin, December 12.—(AP)—The ministry of finance today published estimates for the 1928 budget.

Both the ordinary and extraordinary budgets balance, the former totaling 9,550,000,000 marks and the latter at 140,300,000.

The ordinary budget shows estimated expenditures amounting to 1,227,500,000 marks for reparations payments, 190,000,000 for the German police force, 320,000,000 for army appropriation and 167,000,000 for the navy. The last amount includes 30,000,000 marks as a first installment for a new battleship.

CORNELIA WOMAN, AUTO VICTIM, LAY TO REST

Cornelia, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Mrs. W. F. Marsengill, who was run down and almost instantly killed by an automobile on a downtown street Sunday night, were held here this afternoon from the First Baptist church, of which she was a member. Interment followed in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Marsengill met her death when, in company with her husband, she attempted to cross the main street in the path of an automobile driven by Howard Hefner, 21, employee of a local garage. Witnesses stated that the automobile was being operated at a high rate of speed without lights when it struck Mrs. Marsengill, dragging her a distance.

When the automobile had been brought to a standstill Mrs. Marsengill was carried to a nearby drug store, but died before medical aid could reach her. Examination of the body revealed a number of broken bones, a fractured skull and a fractured rib had penetrated the heart, causing almost instant death.

Hefner was arrested immediately after the accident and was taken to the county jail at Clarksville. The youth, who was hysterical at the time of arrest, insisted that the accident was his fault.

Mr. Marsengill stated after the accident that he and his wife failed to see the oncoming machine as they were looking at a car in the store. He stepped back out of danger when the driver sounded his horn, his wife failed to respond quickly enough and he was struck.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Marsengill, who was well known in this community, is survived by three daughters.

PRISONER DIES IN DINING ROOM AT ATLANTA PEN

The death of John Moran, of Chicago, inmate of the Atlanta federal penitentiary who was found dead in the dining room of the prison Sunday, was due to apoplexy, according to a statement by A. C. Adershold, deputy warden, following an examination of the body by prison physicians. Slight lacerations found on Moran's head were probably due to his head striking the cement floor when he fell, Mr. Adershold said.

Moran was working in the prison dining room as a waiter, while serving a 25-year sentence for participation in a million-dollar mail robbery in St. Paul. He began his term on December 10, 1925, at Leavenworth following conviction at St. Paul, Minn., and was transferred to the Atlanta prison on January 28, 1927.

Mr. Adershold said that prison physicians attributed Moran's death to cerebral thrombosis, and that he was convinced there was "no foul play" in the prisoner's death. Relatives in Chicago have requested that the body be shipped there, and the request will be complied with, Mr. Adershold said.

MORAN ESCAPED IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, December 12.—(AP)—John "Terry" Moran, who died yesterday in the federal prison at Atlanta, where he was serving a 25-year sentence for mail robbery, was arrested in Chicago in September of 1924 for complicity in a $40,000 mail robbery in St. Paul. He escaped from the authorities here but six months later was captured again in Racine, Wis. He was known to police throughout the country for his robbery activities.

FORSYTH MOURNS AS DR. ALEXANDER IS LAID TO REST

Forsyth, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Sunday was a day of sadness in Forsyth on account of the funeral of Dr. George L. Alexander, who passed away December 9 after an illness of ten weeks. He was regarded as one of the first citizens of the county. All the churches of the town joined in the services which were held at the Methodist church Sunday morning. All the available space in the church was filled with his sorrowing friends, a special section being reserved for the colored people. The pulpit, the choir and part of the aisles were banked with floral offerings.

Dr. Alexander was a native of Houston county, but had been a leading physician here for more than 35 years. He was 58 years of age at the time of his death and he belonged to a family of physicians extending back for 100 years. In his ministry of healing he won not only the esteem of his patients, but also the recognition of his ability on the part of his fellow physicians, having been honored by every high office in the gift of the Georgia Medical society.

Dr. Alexander is survived by his wife, who was Miss Dollie Baskin, and three sons, Forest and Gilbert Alexander, and Dr. George H. Alexander, of Forsyth, and three daughters, Miss Dorothy and Emily Alexander, of Forsyth, and Mrs. John F. Bates, of Millen. Interment was in the Forsyth cemetery.

SAMUEL H. ASKEW, DECATUR LEADER, FUNERAL MONDAY

Funeral services for Samuel H. Askew, prominent resident of Decatur who died Saturday, were held Monday afternoon from the residence, 135 Jefferson place, The Rev. Richard Orme Flynn, of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, the Rev. D. P. McGeehey, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian church, and the Rev. J. W. Caldwell, of the Westminster church, officiated and interment was in Decatur cemetery.

Mr. Askew had been an invalid since 1908, when he contracted a fever while in the American army at the time of the Spanish-American war. He never fully recovered from the illness.

Out of respect for the memory of Mr. Askew, who was a brother of Miss Thyrze S. Askew, principal of North Avenue Presbyterian school, the institution was closed Monday. He was the husband of Mrs. Mary Wolf Askew, Bible teacher at the institution.

In addition to his wife and sister, Mr. Askew is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth; his mother, Mrs. Laura E. Askew; and two other sisters, Mrs. Charles D. McKinney and Mrs. Frank E. Ellis.

BRITISH PILOT, ONCE ENGAGED BY LEVINE, ON SECRET MISSION

Boston, December 12.—(AP)—Captain Walter G. Hinchcliffe, British aviator, who was engaged as pilot by Charles Levine on the latter's attempted flight from England to India, arrived here today on the British liner Celtic and by train from New York. He had taken elaborate precautions to keep his identity secret and declined to discuss his mission to America.

Witnesses in 2 Federal Trials Are Found Guilty

U. S. Court Convicts Defendants and Then Tries Friends

Incrimination of two defense witnesses and their subsequent punishment resulted during the trial of moonshining cases in United States district court at Gainesville during the past two weeks, it was revealed Monday at the offices of the federal district attorney here.

Willis Seabolt, a defense witness in the trial of Jimmie Gooch and Will Higgins for manufacturing liquor, having property designed to make whisky and possessing 55 gallons of liquor in Lumpkin county, was recognized by Prohibition Agent F. C. Southern as a man he saw coming from the still. Southern told the court. The prohibition agent said he did not know the man's name, but he recognized his face.

A criminal information was filed against Seabolt by the government, and he was tried and found guilty. He was sentenced to serve three months in jail, execution of the sentence being deferred until January 3. Gooch was found guilty and fined $50 with the alternative of three months, while Higgins was sentenced to three months when convicted.

Ed Spashe, of Towns county, a defense witness for Cleo Nichols, who was on trial on charges of manufacturing liquor and possessing property to make liquor, talked a little too much in his testimony, according to court officials. Spashe admitted having worked at the still, it was said. Federal authorities found that they could not prosecute under the prohibition law, as the alleged offense was committed in 1922, and the statute of limitations bars prosecution of the prohibition law after four years.

It developed, however, that Spashe could be prosecuted under the internal revenue laws, and an information was filed by the district attorney. Spashe pleaded guilty and was fined $100, with the alternative of 30 days. Nichols was convicted on the second count, possessing property, and was fined $50.

A large number of convictions featured federal court at Gainesville. Out of 177 cases tried there were two mistrials and six acquittals, while one-third of the defendants entered pleas of guilty. The rest were convicted. Prohibition cases numbered 167. The criminal division closed Saturday at Gainesville, and Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley opened the civil division Monday. Judge Sibley is expected to wind up the Gainesville term Wednesday.

Strikingly New!

There is a new scion of the house of Pierce-Arrow—and nothing more beautifully modern was ever shown. The car has a patrician smartness. Also, a moderate price.

When one sees something of finest material, exquisitely wrought by hand, the searching truth of the above becomes clearly apparent.

The object may be anything: a garment or a jewel, a tapestry or a motor car. To be treasured because it has that which is without price: "the little more!"

And thus the new Pierce-Arrow is preëminently fine—because its builders work to the dictates of a tradition that knows no compromise with ordinary excellence.

PIERCE-ARROW

The NEW Series 81

You may purchase a Pierce-Arrow out of income, if you prefer. A simplified financing plan makes this a most practical procedure. Your present car accepted as cash up to the full amount of its appraisal valuation.

HILL READY FOR TRIAL; ASKS VENUE CHANGE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Ottawa, Ill., December 12.—Although Harry Hill is seeking a change of venue from the court of Judge Edgar Eldredge, he will not ask a continuance, Attorney A. H. Shay announced this morning, and his trial on a charge of murdering his mother, Mrs. Eliza A. Hill, whose body was found buried under the basement of her Streator home last August, will open in the circuit court on December 27. Hill, with his four attorneys appeared before Judge Frank H. Hays in the circuit court this morning with a formal motion asking that he be granted a change of venue from Judge Eldredge's court. The motion charged that Judge Eldredge was prejudiced against Hill and that he could not secure a fair trial.

Two Streator business men, W. B. Meils, a piano and radio dealer, and Grover Daniels, head of the Daniels Implement company, also filed affidavits charging that Judge Eldredge was prejudiced against Hill and that they did not believe he would receive a fair trial if tried before him.

Judge Hays took his decision in the case under advisement and then departed later in the day for Rochester, Minn., where his wife is ill in

AMERICAN VERSION OF "FAUST" GIVEN BEFORE COOLIDGES

Washington, December 12.—(P)—A distinctly American version of the opera Faust was sung for the first time here tonight before a distinguished audience, including President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Gathered to hear the young artists—all Americans under 33 years—were also Secretary Mellon, Secretary and Mrs. Hoover, Speaker and Mrs. Longworth, the British Ambassador and Lady Howard, and a long list of other prominent in the capital's social and official life.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge sat in Mrs. Joseph Leiter's box which was draped in American flags.

ALABAMA DECIDES BOND ISSUES AT POLLS TODAY

Birmingham, Ala., December 12.—(P)—Ten proposed amendments to the state constitution will be voted on tomorrow by Alabama electors in a statewide election.

With the exception of one amendment, which provides for an increase in the bonded debt of all counties, measures to be voted on are purely local.

BANKERS DISCUSS FLOOD CONTROL

Chattanooga, Tenn., December 12.—(P)—Flood control, the great national problem of the day, was the chief matter taken up at the opening business session of the agricultural commission of the American Bankers' association in session in Chattanooga Monday.

The bankers took no action upon this important problem but will include it in its report which will be presented at the final session.

Discussion of the flood problem was led by Dean W. R. Dodson, of the Louisiana College of Agriculture. Papers upon the subject were presented by several speakers and a general discussion of the situation and what steps ought to be taken followed.

Following the close of the morning session Chairman Burton M. Smith, of North Lake, Wis., announced that practically the entire session had been given over to flood control consideration.

The session was opened with an address by Thomas R. Preston, president of the American Bankers' association, which was followed by a summary of work of the past fiscal year presented by Dan H. Otis, director of the agricultural commission. Otis also presented suggestions for improvement of the work to be carried out during the new year.

From this the commission went directly into a consideration of flood control, hearing a paper by Dean Dodson. This was followed by a paper giving the essence of the Hoover flood report presented by P. B. Doty, of Beaumont, Texas. Help from the standpoint of forestry development was then discussed by P. C. Dorsey, of Louisville, Ky. Levee construction was discussed by H. Lane Young, of Atlanta, Ga., and waterpower and storage by Peper W. Goebel, of Kansas City, Mo.

CALIFORNIANS SEEK AID OF FLOOD BODY

Washington, December 12.—(P)—The hearings of the house flood control committee which is drafting legislation to meet the problem of the Mississippi took a new turn today when a delegation from California appeared to make a plea for federal aid in holding the Sacramento river within its banks.

The Californians asked that the government bear one-third of the expense of a flood control project in the Sacramento valley, the remainder to be shared equally by the state and adjacent land owners. Under the present arrangement the government foots one-sixth of the bill and the state one-sixth with the remainder borne by the property holders.

Clarence E. Jarvis, of Sacramento, president of the California flood control board, led the group and outlined a system of by-pass diversion channels which he recommended as the most effective means of controlling the water of the river.

He said that the state was willing to cooperate in any way possible to reach an equitable division.

Stephen Downey, of Sacramento, outlined the legal phases of the proposed change in the division of expenses. The effect of the floods on the agricultural development of the valley was described by Professor E. A. Etcheverry, of the University of California.

One contribution today to the Mississippi situation was a bill introduced by Representative O'Connor, democrat, Louisiana, which would appropriate $47,000,000 for initiating the flood control project and would place it under the supervision of a new government commission, the latter supplanting the army engineers.

The flags were formally returned to South Carolina by Governor Brewster, of Maine, at the governors' conference in Michigan last summer. Governor Richards received them and expressed the appreciation of this state at their return.

Tags on the flags which are tattered relate that they were captured by the Ninth Maine volunteers at Morris Island July 11, 1863, from the Twenty-first South Carolina volunteers. Their return was authorized by action of the Maine legislature.

FORMER BANKER GIVEN TWO YEARS IN EMBEZZLEMENT

Statesboro, Ga., December 12.—(P)—In Bulloch superior court this morning, Tom Parker, former cashier of the Bank of Rocky Ford, was sentenced to a term of two years in the penitentiary upon his entering a plea of guilty to the charge of embezzlement of bank funds.

The amount of his embezzlement is alleged to be approximately $28,000. H. A. Boykin, Sylva, attorney, speaking in his behalf, explained that the shortage arose through the failure of a New York concern, operators of the Ogechee Valley State company at Rocky Ford, to honor drafts for two pay rolls which the Rocky Ford bank had advanced.

Burns Innocent In Oil Scandal, Ruddy Declares

Washington, December 12.—(P)—Charles G. Ruddy, who had charge of the shadowing of the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury for the Burns Detective agency, ended three days' testimony in the government's criminal contempt case against Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and their associates today with the assertion that Burns knew nothing of the surveillance.

Ruddy, Philadelphia manager for Burns, who was called as a government witness against Sinclair, Burns, W. Sherman Burns, Helen Mason Day, Sheldon Clark and C. L. Veltch, now a willing witness. But just before he left the stand in replying to a question by District Attorney Gordon he said emphatically that W. J. Burns had no connection with the agency and for years only advised his sons in its management. Ruddy said the elder Burns was not aware of the surveillance of the jury until after a mistrial had been declared in the oil case.

While the prosecution continued to introduce reports of detectives in the conspiracy hearing, Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, asked the senate to take steps to enable the government to get the testimony of M. T. Everhart, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior. Everhart refused to testify at the trial in October on the ground that his testimony might incriminate him.

Senator Walsh introduced a bill to reduce from six to three years the statute of limitations in government fraud cases. Everhart, it was charged by the government, delivered to Fall $220,500 in Liberty bonds which the government attempted to prove came originally from Sinclair.

Hammer Slaying Suspects Demand Separate Trials

Homer, La., December 12.—(P)—Motion for severance of the cases of Mrs. Essie Jowers and Elisha Swift, indicted for the slaying of the body of J. F. Jowers, husband of the woman and a former Baptist minister, is expected to be filed.

The couple will be arraigned next Wednesday, it was announced by Judge J. S. Richardson. So far little indication has been given as to the line of defense of either.

The parish grand jury, which deliberated only two hours, failed to return a true bill against Paul Swift, 16-year-old son of Elisha Swift, who officers declare confessed to aiding his father in disposing of the body of Jowers. His case was left in the hands of W. D. Goff, district attorney.

The elder Swift, officers said, confessed to slaying Jowers with a sledge hammer while Mrs. Jowers stood by and then throwing his body into a bayou. Jowers was slain October 31 as he lay asleep in his home.

It was revealed today that Jowers carried a $2,000 life insurance policy payable to his wife, but the policy has not been located, officers said.

The slaying is thought by officers to have been the result of an alleged love affair between Swift and Mrs. Jowers.

WENTY-DOLLAR RIDE Charlton County Man, 'Pick- ed Up' by Autoist, Robbed.

Waycross, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Carey Davis, of Charlton county, has discovered that not only is it dangerous to pick up people along the road, but also to accept a ride from passing cars. This week while walking home two men in a car offered him a lift. As soon as he got in the car he was robbed of $20 and thrown out. Davis says he was so taken by surprise that he would be unable to identify either the men or the car.

McRae, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Real estate is very active in McRae at this time, and an auction sale of property owned by the D. M. McRae estate, the Merchants' bank and several residences owned by Professor Braswell Deen, will be held Thursday, December 15.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Not Like Medicine

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. Get the genuine. Perfected by the famous Chemical Products Division of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. (adv.)

FORD LOSES POINT IN LELAND SUIT

Pontiac, Mich., December 12.—(P)—Counsel for Henry and Edsel Ford were denied access today to the correspondence which passed between Henry M. and Wilfred C. Leland, and other stockholders of the former Lincoln Motor company, by Judge Frank L. Covert, in the Leland's suit on behalf of stockholders to compel reimbursement of approximately $6,000,000.

The plaintiffs charge that the Fords agreed to reimburse stockholders when they bought the company at a receiver's sale for $8,000,000.

The court, however, granted the request of Ford attorneys for permission to examine books of the company formerly believed to have been in the possession of the late William T. Nash, secretary of the former concern.

A motion by Ford attorneys that the court require plaintiffs to file bond as security for the cost of the trial was granted in modified form when Judge Covert ordered plaintiffs living outside of this county to file $10,000 bond jointly. Ford counsel had asked that each plaintiff, numbering about 200, file $1,000 bond each.

Woman 'Socks' Levine, Escapes With $500 Ring

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Newark, N. J., December 12.—Two hundred pounds of blond womanhood knocked Samuel Levine cold on the streets here today.

"I was walking alone in the fog when suddenly I heard stealthy footsteps behind me," Levine told police later. "I turned around, but not quickly enough to stop that woman from bringing her umbrella down on my head. She knocked me out."

The woman rifled Levine's pockets, snatched a $500 ring from his finger, and fled.

TREASURY ISSUE IS OVERSUBSCRIBED BY BILLION DOLLARS

Washington, December 12.—(P)—

The issue of treasury certificates of indebtedness dated December 15 was oversubscribed approximately one billion dollars.

Secretary Mellon announced today that reported subscriptions for the issue, which was for $250,000,000, totaled $1,200,000,000 when books closed at the close of business December 9.

Final reports from federal reserve banks are expected to swell the total somewhat, and when they are all in allotments will be announced.

ILLINOIS ESTATE INHERITANCE TAX SET AT $342,858

Waukegan, Ill., December 12.—(P)

An inheritance tax of $342,858 today was assessed against the estate of the late Robert McElwee, Lake Forest lumber man, who died last June. The tax was one of the largest ever assessed in Illinois.

The lumber man left an estate valued at $3,483,078. His widow, Elizabeth, was the chief beneficiary, receiving about $1,500,000. A sister, Mrs. Flora Miller, of Lexington, Va., was bequeathed $385,500. A brother, William, also of Lexington, was left $81,908.

The remainder was given to other relatives with the exception of about $150,000 given to charity.

96 MEXICAN REBELS, INCLUDING A PRIEST, DIE IN TWO BATTLES

Mexico City, December 12.—(United News.)—

Ninety-six Catholic rebels were killed in two battles in the state of Jalisco last week, according to dispatches today from Guadalupe.

Jose Cabrales, a priest, was among the victims.

Seventy-three Catholics were killed in a battle between 600 rebels and a regiment of federal troops, and 23 died in a conflict of 300 rebels and the fifty-first federal regiment. Estimates of federal casualties were not announced.

When women shop for men's gifts

"Oh, me; ph, my! . . . I don't know what to get for John. It is so hard to select gifts for men, for they seem to have everything needed."

Nonsense, madam. Men are the easiest things in the world to please in a gift . . . only they do not want and will not wear some of the showy gew-gaws that are brought out at this time of year.

If you will only come in here and take a look at all the lovely things that men DO enjoy wearing—things chosen by men who know their likes and dislikes, you'll see a lot of things that John would like awfully well to have . . . coming from YOU.

MAY AVOID SLASH IN TEACHERS' PAY

When members of the Atlanta board of education met at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Atlanta city hall to consider measures looking towards retirement of a possible deficit of $21,000, they probably will not vote to cut salaries of employees of the school system, as was contemplated at first, but will furnish Alexander Charles M. Ford and Councilman W. E. Saunders with an estimate of the deficit in the hope that city council will be able to provide additional funds.

Alderman Ford and Councilman Saunders Monday joined Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth ward, and chairman of the school committee, in a move designed to prevent slashing of teachers' salaries to make up the deficit.

These members of general council will seek to provide the funds needed, and it was predicted Monday night that members of the board will not vote a cut pending outcome of negotiations of these members of council in an effort to raise the money needed to prevent a deficit.

"Teachers or any other city employees should not be forced to submit to salary cuts at this time of the year, and we feel that city council should do everything in its power to prevent necessity of such stringent economy moves on the part of the board," the said, "The school board, we believe, this year has shown a disposition to operate within the budget as set up, and even with the automatic salary increase in effect, the teachers are in a large measure underpaid."

THIRD OPPORTUNITY PRESENTED TODAY

With your support, this same result will be accomplished next year. With the necessary milk diet, better housing, sufficient clothing and medical attention these youngsters can be fortified against the sickness and disease which has brought disaster to their homes.

It is impossible for undernourished children to succeed in school; anxiety and physical suffering play havoc with their studies. Scantily clothed, they hang back from taking part in playground activities, or the social side of school life.

Of 2,000 cases under care of the Family Welfare society, these ten families have been chosen as the most worthy of your charity, as composed of the most promising young citizens and as those whose salvation will work the greatest benefit to society.

Won't you contribute to this "Third Opportunity," or to "Opportunities One and Two," as yet unsubscribed?

Generosity of yours may save a life, help of yours may be the means of developing citizens of whom Atlanta can be proud.

because the law does not provide for any such effect.

The resolution was adopted unanimously for the secretary of the board, E. Lee Worsham, to countersign all checks. I think that this is proper and you will notice that it passes the muster of the board.

The law provides that all horticultural fees shall be paid into the state treasury. It also requires that the board of the board shall be paid out of the appropriation that is made for the maintenance of the board, and that the commissioner of agriculture shall audit and approve all accounts against the board before they are paid.

The other account of only $125 was in the name of the board of entomology, special account, per W. L. Nease. This account is also held up, which was the only proper thing for the board to do not to pay out any more checks signed by W. L. Nease.

"These two accounts are for horticultural fees and are not part of the appropriation for the maintenance of the department, and they belong in the state treasury. The board receives money for horticultural fees and registrations almost daily. The law in that these shall be filed with the chairman of the board. The two accounts that so much has been written about will finally go into the state treasury. They are safe now because they are in two good hands."

"What leg can anyone stand on when they are objecting to fees being deposited with the state treasurer that the law directs shall be deposited there?"

Alexander and Phinizy Auto Association Chiefs

Left, H. H. Alexander, newly elected president, and Jack Phinizy, named first vice president of the Atlanta Automobile association at that body's annual meeting Monday night.

H. H. Alexander, manager of the Buick Motor company factory branch here, was named to head the Atlanta Automobile association for the ensuing year in the election of officers that featured the association's annual meeting Monday night on the Ansley hotel roof garden. Mr. Alexander succeeds Harry Sommers, retiring president, who carried the organization through one of its most prosperous years.

Other officers elected to take charge of activities for 1928 are: Jack Phinizy, head of the Jack Phinizy Motor company, first vice president; Sam D. Katz, prominent in the accessory field as executive of the Automotive Sales and Service, Inc., second vice president; John Hargrave, president of Hargrave Brothers, third vice president; T. P. Hicks, sales manager Autocar Sales and Service, secretary; S. B. Dodge, general manager Franklin Motor Car company, treasurer, and C. V. Hohenstein, executive secretary.

Board of Directors.
The following were elected directors: Harry Sommers, of Harry Sommers, Inc.; C. E. Freeman, well-known Ford dealer; John Colley, head of Colley-Murphy company, and Willie Moore, of the Ford Motor company.

The most elaborate affair of its kind in the automobile association's history, the Monday night meeting was marked by interesting speeches, annual reports and well-planned entertainment.

Touching on novel angles of the sales promotion field, Harry G. Moore, managing director of the greater market development division of the Automotive Equipment association and a figure of national prominence in the automobile industry, delivered the ment charges against him. An application to make the order permanent will be heard Tuesday morning.

In his order to Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett, ordering mobilization of national guardsmen, the governor declared the action of the legislature and "proceedings" of the legislature in the state of Oklahoma; the state and its constitutional government is in grave danger of being thrust into the hands of civil war, and the representatives by their unlawful, contemptuous, illegal and treasonable acts, threaten to destroy the constitutional government."

Woman Is Responsible.
It was understood from authoritative sources, Mrs. Hammonds, whom the insurgents call the "governor in fact," was largely instrumental for the mobilization of the militia, influencing the governor and his group of counselors to proceed along this line of retaliation.

Mrs. Hammonds has played an important role in the political tangle, and although her name has not been mentioned by the insurgents in their charges against the administration, it is believed the legislators will seek her dismissal.

The governor's confidential secretary has been depicted as a modern Joan of Arc, directing the movements of the governor against a hostile legislature.

Late today Governor Johnston announced martial law would not be extended over the state. He asserted that the ordering of the troops to the capital was done on his own "initiative," and added that "no call for a special session is contemplated."

Encounter Guardsmen.
The legislators were unaware troops had been called out until they reached the statehouse. There they encountered guardsmen from three companies of the 179th infantry stationed at the capitol, with Brigadier General McPherson in command.

The doors of the legislative chambers, galleries, committee rooms and private offices were roped off and guarded by the militia. No machine guns were in evidence.

It was said the intent behind calling out of the militia was to postpone impeachment proceedings until the courts could determine the legal status of the session.

Assembly Interrupted.
The legislators were to have assembled this morning to hear charges against the governor and Harry B. Cordell, president of the board of agriculture. But the presence of troops interrupted the scheduled assembly.

Judge K. R. Armstrong, advisor of the governor, and uncle of Mrs. Hammonds, said the "war" between the governor and the legislature would end only by a decision of the United States supreme court.

H. Tom Knight, chairman of the house investigating committee, preferring charges against Johnston, declared "Governor Johnston will be impeached Tuesday night."

He declared the ouster of the chief executive was a "certainty" following the summoning of troops.

Other insurgents said Johnston would have to declare statewide martial law to prevent them from meeting.

Map Course for Today.
Tonight the boards of strategy of both camps were mapping their course for Tuesday—the insurgents holding their hotel session much like a convention, while the governor, his advisors and Mrs. Hammonds held forth in the capitol building.

The statehouse resembled a war camp with armed guards patrolling the corridors and an ominous silence prevailing as the strategists planned to carry each thrust the opposition might direct.

Dominating the governor's secret meeting was Mrs. Hammonds, the wife and mother whom the insurgents dubbed "Mrs. Colonel House" for her alleged control of the governor's office. Fiery and impetuous she presents a contrast to the usually imperious governor.

At the insurgent session in a hotel room, the representatives, Knight, Hill, Robert Graham and Tom Johnston—leaders of the "rebellion"—made plans for their meeting Tuesday. They were expected to assemble despite the opposition to supreme court, governor and militia.

Revels, Walter P. First.
The fight that recalls the days of principal business address on the topic "Diversification as Applying to the Automotive Industry."

An outstanding feature of the evening was witnessed in the elaborate entertainment arranged by the committee headed by Clarence Knowles, sales manager for Martin-Nash Motor company, with the aid of "Fat" Elford, who was master of ceremonies for the occasion. High class vaudeville and musical numbers comprised the entertainment program.

Mr. Alexander, the new president of the association, has been manager of the local Buick branch for the past four years, coming here from Flint, Mich., where he was identified with the truck division of the Buick Motor company. He has taken an active part in automotive and civic affairs alike since coming to Atlanta, and his general popularity and efficiency indicate a splendid administration for the coming year.

Retiring officers of the association were: Harry Sommers, president; Ralph Parker, first vice president; Ed Yancey, second vice president; C. G. Parsons, third vice president; S. L. Brandes, fourth vice president; Max Meitzner, secretary; Jack Phinizy, treasurer, and the following directors: E. G. Beaudry, J. M. Harrison, Ed Baughman and Sam D. Katz.

Activities included promotion of better highways throughout Georgia, and aid in improving traffic, parking and safety conditions in Atlanta as well as on the highways.

SUPREME COURT TEST FOR DEPOSITORY LAW

Fayetteville, Ga., December 12.—(AP)—Action of Judge W. H. H. Searcy, Jr., in postponing consideration of the embroilment case against A. O. Blacklock, president of the defunct Bank of Fayetteville; D. B. Blacklock, vice president; Y. H. Longino, former cashier, and E. V. Jones, cashier at the time the bank failed, will result in a supreme court test of a special act of the 1915 legislature of Georgia.

The bankers were on trial in connection with disposition of state and county monies placed in the bank as county depository.

Former Governor Hardwick and Marion Smith, of Atlanta, attorneys for the defense, sought to have the funds dissipated on a demurrer, setting out that the funds deposited with the bank as a depository became a part of the bank's general funds and as such were subject to use as other deposits and that they were so used in the best judgment of the officials on trial. They maintained that the funds were not lost in any special transaction of the officers, but that the deposits lost their identity when deposited in the bank.

Solicitor General Owen, on behalf of the state, argued to the court that these indictments were drawn in the plain language of the statute. Judge Searcy sustained his contention and overruled the demurrer, but permitted lawyers for the defense to file a bill of exceptions carrying the case to the court of appeals. The judge stated that he did this for the reason that an important question, involving practically every other county depository in the state, was raised, and that if the contention of defense counsel is shown to be correct it would leave county funds all over the state unprotected.

The grand jury is still in session here and it is reported that other indictments are likely to be drawn in connection with the failure of the Bank of Fayetteville.

Members of Cast.
The show was devised by Earl Blackwell and will be staged with the assistance of George Holloway, orchestra conductor.

Those taking part in the show will include Marion Wolf, Mary Harris, Elsie Prater, Theodosia Hummick, Mary X. Gunter, Evelyn Branch, Mary Buchanan, Angel Allen, Helena Calloway, Harriet Hassan, Betty Stripling, Carol Thompson, Louise Madden, Ruth Brooke, Gertrude Murray, Eugenia Buchanan, LaFrance Montcrief, Dwight Horton, Bill Perkins, Ed Garlington, Major Guthrie, Stuart Gould, Murphy Judd, Lyman Fox, Blanford Eubanks, Frank Luman, Foss Allen, Alan Watkins, Jake Sutton,

An elaborate fashion revue incorporating more than $11,000 worth of costumes will be a big feature of "Petrel Follies" student show to be staged tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium of the Woman's club as the first of two benefit performances to be given for the Oglethorpe university endowment fund drive for $500,000 which lacks only $70,000 of completely funding Atlanta's quota of $250,000 to obtain a like amount from J. T. Lupton, of Chattanooga.

The revue, staged with 12 boys and 12 girls, promises to be one of the most complete affairs of its kind staged locally. The costumes, furnished by George Muse company, are the latest styles and importations from that style center.

"Petrel Follies," itself, will present to local theater-goers a revue and stage show of the type made famous by Ziegfeld and as a special presentation, the big song hit, "My Heart Stood Still," will be offered for the first time here. "Petrel Follies" will mark the first time that the Oglethorpe orchestra and the Players' club, two of the outstanding student organizations, have combined to present a performance. Miss Robert Jester Harbour and Miss Sarah Sharp are in charge of the dancing.

Charles Willis, Paul Madden, Ernest Sheridan, Fred Griffin, Fred Boynton and Bob Shepherd.

Another interesting feature of the show will be the presentation of the Russian Cossack chorus, famous male choral group, in concert Wednesday night at 8:15 o'clock at the Wesley Memorial church.

In addition to the score or so of Russian numbers the Cossack chorus will present the popular "Song of the Volga Boatmen" will be enacted in dramatic fashion by the chorus.

Daily luncheon meetings at 12:30 o'clock each day are being held by the workers in the campaign who are making a drive to raise as much as possible of the remaining $70,000 before Christmas.

A number of Atlanta civic clubs are conducting workers and fund-raising to the campaign, but a vital need for workers still exists. Dr. Thonwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe, announced, as all willing to devote even a part of their time are requested to communicate with Dr. Jacobs or other officials of the drive.

VANDERBILT STUDENT

Swarthmore, Pa., December 12.—(AP)—President Frank Aydelotte, of Swarthmore college, American secretary to the Rhodes trustees, announced today that Robert Penn Warren, representing Vanderbilt university and now at New Haven, Conn., won the Rhodes scholarship from Kentucky.

The elections in 22 states were held on Saturday and in the announcement of winners, made last night, it was erroneously stated that William S. Ward was the successful candidate from Kentucky. The error was made in telephoning names from a Lexington office to President Aydelotte's office.

DRUGGIST ROBBED, SEVERELY BEATEN

W. F. Sullivan, of 479 Candler street, was held up and beaten by two negro bandits early Monday night, according to police reports. Sullivan was taken to Grady hospital with a fractured left arm and cuts about his wrist and hands. He told Call Officers M. D. Cartwright and E. E. Brackett that one of the negroes held him at the point of a pistol while the other struck him with a heavy iron pipe, after securing about $60 from the cash register.

The home of A. W. Stubbs, of 1134 Spring street, was burglarized between 3 and 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, according to police reports. A large quantity of clothing was taken, the reports show.

W. J. Duncan, an employee of the American Railway Express company, reported to police Monday night that he was held up by two negroes and robbed of $4.48 near the office on Maughan street. He gave a description of the bandits to Patrolman J. D. Stripling.

TRANS-ATLANTIC
LINERS, OVERDUE,
ARRIVE IN PORT

New York, December 12.—(AP)—Two overdue trans-Atlantic liners—the Red Star liner Belgenland and the French liner Roussillon—reached port today after battling terrific gales. The S. S. Albert Ballin, in a wireless to the Associated Press, said that although it was a full day behind schedule, it was weathering the storm without discomfort to its passengers.

The Belgenland, with its ship's bell and several ventilators missing, reached port 21 hours late, and the Roussillon arrived two days behind schedule.

DECISION HITS DRY SEIZURES

Washington, December 12.—(AP)—When the police of states that have no prohibition enforcement law of their own cooperate with federal authorities, they must be bound, the supreme court ruled today, by the federal statutes providing for search and seizure, or the evidence obtained will have no validity in court.

On the other hand, the tribunal declared, evidence uncovered in making arrests for violations of state laws can be used by the federal authorities in prosecuting liquor cases.

The decision came in a case selected from several to put the proposition to a test. It was brought by Rosalio Gambino and Joseph Lima, who were arrested by state police at Massena, N. Y. The pair asserted that the arrest had been made and their automobile searched, not for a violation of a state law, but "solely for the purpose of aiding the federal prosecution." It was contended that since the state troops had no search warrant, the evidence obtained could not be used against them in the federal courts.

The court concurred in this contention and declared that under the circumstances, the state police are subject to the same restrictions as federal officers.

Air Injuries Fatal.

Chicago, December 12.—(AP)—W. B. Ernst, 24-year-old senior in medicine at Northwestern university, died today from injuries that resulted when the plane in which he was a passenger crashed from a height of 200 feet to a south side sidewalk yesterday.

Lieutenant Linton C. Roberts, of the army air service reserve corps, who piloted the plane, probably will recover.

$1,305,000 ASKED FOR IMPROVEMENT OF SAVANNAH RIVER

Washington, December 12.—(AP)—Expenditure of $1,305,000 with $75,000 annually for operation and maintenance for the three years and $50,000 annually thereafter for improvement of the Savannah river below Augusta, Ga., was recommended to congress today by Major General Jadwin, chief of army engineers.

He recommended provision of a channel six feet deep to the head of navigation at Augusta by the construction of one lock with movable dams and by "open river improvements."

The work would not be commenced until local interests should have furnished, free of cost to the federal government, for the dock and dam appurtenances, and all necessary flowage and dumping easements.

Another provision contingent upon the starting of work would be a requirement that the secretary of war had received assurances that there will be "available within three years from the date work is started adequate terminals for the economic handling of at least 125,000 tons of commerce annually between Augusta and Savannah, exclusive of sand and rafted or barged logs."

PATRON ORDERS FUNERAL FIXED, PLANS SUICIDE

San Francisco, December 12.—(AP)—Announcing that his wife and mother had died recently and that the prospect of going through the holiday season in loneliness was too much to bear, a man who introduced himself as G. Montague, New York attorney, called at an undertaker's office here yesterday and arranged for his funeral. He said he intended to kill himself within an hour or two. He left a note ordering the corner to turn the body over to the undertaker firm.

The visitor said the funeral expenses could be paid out of his account. Police started a search for Montague but were unable to locate him.

DEMOCRATIC FIGHT ON TAXES BEGINS

Washington, December 12.—(AP)—Catching republicans off guard house democrats succeeded today in amending the revenue bill to materially reduce the tax rate on net corporation incomes of $15,000 or less.

The proposal was sponsored by Representative Garner, of Texas, senior minority member of the ways and means committee which drafted the measure. It was opposed by Chairman Green, and the vote, 136 to 122, largely was along party lines.

Except for this thrust the democrats made no concerted effort to penetrate the cordon of republican votes that Green, after his unexpected defeat, kept on the floor to defend provisions of the measure. Throughout the day, however, some democrats joined with a handful of republicans in taking sporadic shots at various items in the bill but these attacks proved futile.

Will Demand Record Vote.

Although the democrats scored one victory Green indicated he would seek to nullify it, before a final vote on the measure, by demanding a record vote on the corporation income amendment. As republicans have a comfortable majority in the house it was predicted that it would be eliminated before the bill is sent to the senate.

Operating for the first time under rules permitting amendments to the bill the house worked with speed. It proposed without debate a section proposing a reduction of the tax on corporation incomes from 13 1/2 to 11 1/2 per cent to apply to payments due next March 15 and an increase from $2,000 to $3,000 in the amount of income exempted from taxation.

The Garner amendment, which Representative Chubb, of Illinois, introduced into the committee, estimated would add $24,000,000 to the $22,735,000 reduction already proposed by the bill, would grant a further benefit to corporations with a net taxable income of not more than $15,000 as follows:

Changes Proposed.

Instead of the 11 1/2 per cent rate, the rate would be five per cent on a net taxable income of $7,000 or under; seven per cent on incomes between $7,000 and $12,000; and nine per cent if the incomes are more than $12,000, and not more than $15,000. Continuation of the present normal and surtax rates on individual incomes was approved by the house after rejection of an amendment by Representative La Guardia, republican, of New York, to add an additional thirty per cent tax on incomes exceeding $15,000.

The present schedule of personal exemptions also was adopted, but not until after the house had turned down an amendment by Representative Hudspeth, democrat, of Texas, to increase from $1,500 to $2,000 the exemption allowed heads of families and from $1,500 to $2,000 that for single persons.

Publicity Phase Unchanged.

The retention of the present regulations governing publicity of tax returns also was approved without discussion. This was in contrast to the fight two years ago when a coalition of democrats and independent republicans endeavored to revive an old provision which called for making public of tax returns.

The provision to make the two per cent reduction in the corporation tax rate apply to payments due next March 15, was adopted without a fight. The democrats had indicated they would attempt to have the reduction apply for the first time to payments due in 1929, but no move in that direction was made.

FIRST BILL PASSED IN CONGRESS GIVES LINDBERGH MEDAL

Washington, December 12.—(United News.)—Charles Lindbergh now holds another record that probably will not be duplicated for some time. The bill to bestow the congressional medal of honor on him has passed both houses without a dissenting vote. It is the first bill to pass the new congress. The house acted Saturday, the senate today.

It arrived in the senate while Senator Reed, Missouri, democrat, was discussing the senatorial primary investigation and he asked unanimous consent for immediate action on it. Blaise, South Carolina, democrat, at first objected, saying he thought the bill was illegal, because the congressional medal could be given only for action against an enemy. Reed explained that the present bill would be a law unto itself and could not conflict with an other and it was passed immediately.

NATIONAL AIRPORT MEET ADDRESSED BY CHICAGO MAYOR

Chicago, December 12.—(AP)—Mayors and their representatives of cities eager to be more than small dots on future aviation maps, heard at the national airport conference here today what they should do to assure development.

"Any new avenue of transportation means an increase in business," said Mayor William Hale Thompson, sponsor for the conference. "Beyond a doubt the air is to be the new avenue of transportation. I believe the key to the situation is centrally located landing fields."

Others, including Paul Henderson, president of the National Airport Transport company; Allen Jackson, of the Standard Oil company, and P. G. Kemp, of the Chicago Aero commission, thought the same thing.

The conference will continue three days.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home staples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuritis, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Mercury Rise And Rains Due In City, State

Threatening clouds and rising temperatures will continue to envelope Atlanta and vicinity today, according to the local forecast by C. F. von Hermann, at the government station.

Light rains, similar to those witnessed Monday, are expected. No significant changes in conditions over the state are predicted.

In Atlanta the mercury column is slated to reach a maximum of which 2 or 3 degrees of the December record set with a 72-degree maximum, December 18, 1908. A range from 58 to 68 degrees was covered Monday, with thermometer fluctuations from 62 to above 70 degrees scheduled for today.

2 KILLED, 3 INJURED IN AIRPLANE CRASH

Montpelier, Ohio, December 12.—(United News.)—Two men were killed and three others seriously injured today when a Waco air transport plane crashed near here. The plane was en route from Detroit, Mich., to Fort Wayne, Ind.

Captain John Ziegler, pilot, and C. J. Parker, Portland, Ore., a passenger, were killed. The injured passengers were Harry Mansfield, of Portland; George W. MacLomson, of Detroit; and L. R. Temple, of Portland.

Charges Against North Carolina Judge Withdrawn

Greensboro, N. C., December 12.—(AP)—Speedy confirmation by congress of the appointment of Johnson J. Hayes as judge of the middle North Carolina district, United States court, was seen here today following an order by Hayes that he had been informed in a telegram from Senator Lee S. Overman that sensational charges preferred against him by D. T. Vance, of Plum Tree, had been withdrawn. Hayes has been serving as judge of the district under a recess appointment by President Coolidge, subject to the approval of congress.

Vance in his charges declared that "Johnson J. Hayes is not a fit and proper person to discharge the duties of this office." He alleged that Hayes had "corruptly and wrongfully used a public office for the purpose of extortion."

Robert Mantell III.

Columbus, Ohio, December 12.—(AP)—Robert Mantell, 73, Shakespearean actor, who suffered a general breakdown here Friday while playing an engagement at Columbus theater, is to be removed to his home in Atlantic Highlands, N. LINDY PREPARES FOR NEW FLIGHT

Washington, December 12.—(AP)—Undismayed by reports of poor weather conditions, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh pushed steadily forward today with preparations for his flight from Washington to Mexico City.

The day's activities included a consultation with officials of the weather bureau and the navy hydrographic office—after which he announced that the flight could not be begun for at least ten days—luncheon with the commanding office at Bolling field and an afternoon spent inspecting the work of army mechanics on the Spirit of St. Louis and in testing out the army's new Leaning headquarters plane.

The new army plane is of the amphibian type, one of the few classes of aircraft with which Colonel Lindbergh is not entirely familiar. Despite a muddy field, he made a perfect take-off and after circling overhead made practice landings on the Potomac river. Later, he took Representative Sweet of New York for a flight in the new plane.

Colonel Lindbergh is well satisfied with the overhauling of his plane. "The Spirit of St. Louis," he said, "is in such perfect mechanical condition that I can start for Mexico City on two hours' notice."

CHARGES AGAINST NORTH CAROLINA JUDGE WITHDRAWN

Greensboro, N. C., December 12.—(AP)—Speedy confirmation by congress of the appointment of Johnson J. Hayes as judge of the middle North Carolina district, United States court, was seen here today following an order by Hayes that he had been informed in a telegram from Senator Lee S. Overman that sensational charges preferred against him by D. T. Vance, of Plum Tree, had been withdrawn. Hayes has been serving as judge of the district under a recess appointment by President Coolidge, subject to the approval of congress.

Marion Talley Plans Future As Farmerette

Hartford, Conn., December 12.—(AP)—Just as son as Marion Talley, young star of the Metropolitan Opera company, can find a little farm in Ohio that pleases her she intends to buy it and then some day, which she hopes will not be far distant, she will leave the footlights to play the role of farmerette. She thinks this is the most interesting of all roles. That in sum and substance is the gist of a statement she made just before appearing in a concert here yesterday.

"It isn't to be a very large farm," she confided, "I want it to be small enough so that I can manage it all by myself. I'm going to find out all about cows and chickens and such things, and direct everything myself. Don't think I am just dreaming—I really mean it."

Miss Talley dislikes city life. "It isn't life at all," she said. "It is unnatural and unreal. There is too much hurry and worry for real appreciation and enjoyment of life. I want to get out into the country where it is peaceful and quiet and the world is at rest."

YOUTHFUL HEIRESS TO CUSACK FORTUNE ENTERS CONVENT

Chicago, December 12.—(AP)—Miss Jane Evelyn Cusack, 22-year-old daughter and heiress of the late millionaire outdoor advertising man, Thomas Cusack, has entered a convent, her friends learned today.

Unknown even her close associates, says The Herald and Examiner, Miss Cusack, one of five children of Thomas Cusack, entered the novitiate of the Dominicans at Sinsinawa, Wis., last Wednesday.

Beauty Asks Divorce.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Avenue Taylor Greese, who is said to have been proclaimed by Florenz Ziegfeld as the most beautiful girl he ever had "glorified," is asking a divorce in a Chicago court from Lewis Greese, musical director. They were married July 24, 1925, and separated two months later, she to enter the movies.

THEATER OWNERS PLAN COURT FIGHT OVER ROYALTIES

Charlotte, N. C., December 12.—(AP)—A bitter legal battle in the United States supreme court between theater owners and the American Society of Composers and Authors was heralded in preparations disclosed at the opening session of the North Carolina Theater Owners' association today to contest the legality of royalty collected from the exhibitors by the society.

C. C. Pettijohn, of New York, general counsel of the Film Boards of Trade of America, in addressing the convention, urged the exhibitors to "get back to pictures" in preference in vaudeville numbers in arranging programs.

The exhibitors are dissatisfied, it was said, with paying the fee of ten cents per seat a year for the privilege of presenting musical numbers in connection with motion pictures and other programs. Revenue the society derives from this source was estimated at $500,000 a year.

While the movie men planned to push the war on the composers and authors' society, a movement was discussed which it was hoped would bring peace in their own ranks. Friction admittedly existing between producers, distributors and exhibitors was mentioned intermittently by representatives of the different groups who addressed the convention.

When he had spoken of "strife within the industry," R. F. Woodhull, of New York, president of the National Association of Theater Owners, touched upon the recent federal trade commission investigation into the motion picture industry with the comment that "a much more hopeful situation was promised."

$1,000 ARMY SUPPLIES
LOOT OF BURGLARS

Police Monday were investigating clues which they believe may lead to the arrest of burglars instrumental in the theft of clothing and shoes valued at $1,000 from a store at 245 Marietta street, N. W. The goods consisted of army supplies in which the store specializes, it was reported.

Another loss by theft reported Monday was sustained by Miss Katherine Laird, of 121 Seventh street, N. E., when burglars entered her apartment and made off with a platinum wrist watch, a diamond sapphire bracelet and $5 in cash.

TROLLINGER TRIAL POSTPONED MONTH

Postponement until January 9 was ordered Monday in the trial of Thomas Trollinger, Simpson road farmer, who is charged with the murder of Mildred Allen. The trial was deferred on the request of Assistant Solicitor General John Hudson, who said that Solicitor General John A. Boykin is confined to his home with a cold.

The case was called Monday before Judge G. H. Howard, in Fulton superior court. Trollinger is charged with shooting Allen on Simpson road on October 23. He was acquitted at a preliminary hearing, after Miss Nina Ewitt testified that Trollinger shot Allen to save her life when Allen chased her with a knife. Indictment of Trollinger by the grand jury following the Simpson road "death farm" revelations.

Trollinger was acquitted recently when tried on a charge of murdering Owen Caruthers, negro, whose body was found in a shallow grave on the farm.

PELLEY SOUNDS
OPTIMISTIC NOTE
FOR COMING YEAR

Sounding a note of optimism for the year 1928, President John J. Pelley, of the Central of Georgia railway, in a statement Monday declared that 1928 "dawns with fundamental conditions essentially sound," expressing belief that the new year will be "one of substantial progress for this section." He says that "good transportation service will contribute to bringing this about and to continue and if possible to improve this railroad's service, employees and the management of the Central of Georgia railway pledge themselves."

Mr. Pelley expresses no discouragement over the recession of business activity during 1927 as compared with 1926, attributing it in part to the natural reaction following a period of unusual development and expansion. Calling attention to the many new industries recently established in this section and to the progress made by existing factories, he declares that this territory is steadily advancing toward that balanced development of agriculture and industry which is the surest foundation for permanent prosperity.

LOCAL COUNCIL OF BOY SCOUTS
MEETS THURSDAY

The annual meeting of the Atlanta Boy Scout council will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the assembly hall of the chamber of commerce.

In addition to the election of officers and members of the board of directors for the year 1928, members of troop 11 will give a demonstration of scouting and more than 100 Boy Scouts will be presented with service ribbons in recognition of their service to various civic organizations.

W. E. Harrington, president, will present a report of the progress made by the council during the present year. Dr. W. Perrin Nicholson, Jr., of the Boy Scout Court of Honor, will give a report of the merit badge work done by the council. Thomas C. Law will report on the Boy Scout camp last summer, and T. G. Woodford, treasurer, will report on the Bert Adams Boy Scout reservation fund.

The meeting is open to the public.

KAPPA ALPHA GET
R. R. FARE REDUCTION

Delegates attending the Kappa Alpha convention to be held in Atlanta on December 29, 30 and 31, will be given special rates on round-trip fares, it was announced Monday by Lowry Nicholson, chairman of the convention committee.

According to the chairman's statement, "Kappa Alphas and their guests may save 25 per cent of the regular railroad fare by obtaining convention certificates from the ticket agent when purchasing their tickets to Atlanta. While the regular fare will be charged for that ticket, the convention certificate, upon proper validation at convention headquarters, will entitle the holder to a return ticket over the same route at one-half the regular rate. This reduced rate will be effective only in the event that 250 convention certificates are presented at Atlanta. Indications are that the convention attendance will assure this."

American Business Club. Members of the American Business club will hold their regular meeting at 1 o'clock today in the Henry Grady hotel. Featuring the entertainment program will be Mrs. Olga Lefter, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Simpson.

National Ruler Of Elks To Visit
Atlanta Friday

John Frank Malley, of Boston, grand exalted ruler of the Elks' national organization, will visit Atlanta Friday on a tour of this section. It was announced here Monday. Mr.

JOHN FRANK MALLEY.

Malley will be accompanied by his wife and a party of high officials in the Elks' order, with whom he will be the guest of Atlanta lodge No. 78, R. P. O. E.

Featuring the elaborate preparations being made by local members to honor the national leader, will be a formal banquet at 6:30 o'clock Friday night, in the new Elks' home. All arrangements will be in charge of J. Turner Fitten, exalted ruler of the local lodge, and B. C. Broyles, secretary.

Among those in the distinguished visiting party besides Mr. and Mrs. Malley will be Grand Esquire Lloyd Maxwell and his wife, Grand Secretary J. E. Masters, Edward W. Cotter and Louis Boismenu, of the board of grand trustees.

Elks' executives of Georgia who will attend the gathering to pay tribute to Mr. Malley and his party are E. Foster Brigham, president of the Georgia Elks' association; W. H. Beck, district deputy grand exalted ruler, Georgia north; Charles H. Smith, exalted ruler, Macon lodge, and others.

Mr. Malley will arrive on the Central of Georgia railway at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and will leave for Birmingham the following morning.

MARKOWITZ TAKEN FOLLOWING ESCAPE

The state prison commission Monday announced the recapture of M. Markowitz, convicted Atlanta forger, who with two other prisoners escaped from the state prison farm at Milledgeville August 30.

Markowitz, the prison commission said, was apprehended in Milwaukee, Wis., for alleged violation of the narcotic laws.

BUTLER DECIDES
HE WILL NOT RUN

Boston, December 12.—(Special.)—Former Senator William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, in a letter to Robert M. Washburn, president of the Roosevelt club, today said that he would not be a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator in 1928.

Mr. Butler wrote: "You ask me whether I am to be a candidate for senate in the republican primaries of 1928 and if so when I am to declare my candidacy. Your letter is, I think, the only one I have received from a party organization of the prominence of the Roosevelt club.

"My answer to your question is that I shall not be a candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in 1928. My keen interest, however, continues that this seat shall be made republican."

He added that his duties as chairman "will continue for some months and must have my first attention."

NURSE TO FACE TRIAL FOR DEATH OF WOMAN

Fitzgerald, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Ben Hill superior court is in session here this week, being the adjourned term of the fall term of court. A number of misdemeanor cases, including some violations of the prohibition laws, are to be disposed of.

The best known case to be called is that of the state against Miss Josephine Clark, trained nurse, who was tried at the last term of court, charged with murder in the death of Myrtice Westberry, of Daytona, Fla., who died in the nurses' home in July as a result of a criminal operation, alleged to have been performed by Miss Clark. The court declared a mistrial. Miss Clark's co-defendant, James Herndon, with whom the young woman came from Florida, was found guilty of manslaughter and is serving a sentence of from two to five years on the chainage.

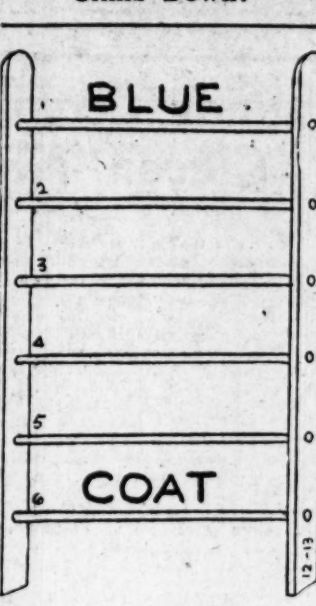

Henry Freeman, charged with assault with intent to murder Mrs. Zara Dorman, who lost an arm as a result of a gunshot wound said to have been received at the hands of Freeman, is expected to be tried this week.

Mrs. Dorman was confined several weeks in the local hospital but is now back on her farm. Freeman is in jail, awaiting the action of the grand jury, which will be in session this week.

COMMERCIAL HIGH
ALUMNI COUNCIL TO MEET TONIGHT

An annual winter meeting of the council and officers of the Commercial High Alumni association will be held tonight at 6 o'clock at the Ramsey tea room, 43 1-2 Peachtree street. Several important matters will be taken up, it was announced.

Plans for the annual banquet, to be held early in the new year, will be the principal topic of discussion. Every member of the council and those who desire to work on the council are urged to be present at the dinner tonight at 6 o'clock.

CITY OF M'RAE BUYS
BONDS OF $60,000

McRae, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Upon completion of the sale of the light, ice and cold storage plants of the city to the Georgia Power company for $70,000, the city bond commission met with the mayor and council and city attorney and voted to purchase $60,000 worth of Georgia Power company bonds, totaling $60,000 in investment bonds, to hold until such time as the city of McRae bonds can be bought in. The balance of $10,000 was left on deposit in an Atlanta bank for checking purposes.

LEWIS ASKEW NAMED NEW MAYOR OF LULA

Lula, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Lewis Askew was elected mayor at the municipal election Saturday. He was the only candidate for that office. For councilmen, H. M. Smalley, T. C. Pool, Terrell Lee, J. D. Adams, D. C. Cagle were named.

Civilian Election.

Annual election of officers of the Civilian club will feature the regular meeting today, at 12:30 o'clock, in the Atlanta Athletic club. It was announced Monday. Yearly reports and discussion of Civilian activities will constitute another portion of the program.

Held for Jury.

R. F. Atkins, of 403 West Peachtree street, was held for the federal grand jury Monday by United States Commissioner L. S. Ledbetter under $200 bond on charges of possessing a gallon of whisky.

M'RAE PLANTS TAKEN OVER BY POWER CO.

McRae, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—The Georgia Power company, which recently bought the municipal electric light plant and ice and cold storage plant, has assumed operations of the plant, having paid to the city $70,000, the cash consideration for the plants.

A crew of men from the power company was here last week making a survey and location of different current users, to read and test out all meters, where necessary, and to install other meters where needed.

The same crew employed by the city was retained to operate the present plant until the power company can build its hydroelectric lines into the city, those retained being G. R. Davis, superintendent, assisted by W. H. Welch, J. M. Bishop and F. C. McRae. R. O. Oberley, present city clerk and treasurer, has been employed jointly by the power company and the city and will have charge of the collection of light and water bills. The city retained control of the waterworks.

FITZGERALD I. O. O. F.
IN ANNUAL ELECTION

Fitzgerald, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Fitzgerald Lodge, No. 35, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers at its last meeting: Noble grand, W. A. Walker; vice grand, E. A. Bullard; recording secretary, E. A. Ginn; financial secretary, C. A. Miller; treasurer, Claude Riker; trustee, H. E. Nelson.

About twenty members of the lodge attended the district meeting held in Ashburn Friday and the degree term of the lodge conferred the first degree on seven candidates for Ashburn lodge.

CHAMBER LEADERS
ROTARY SPEAKERS

George West, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and Alfred Newell, former president of the chamber, will deliver the principal addresses at the regular meeting of the Rotary club at 12:30 o'clock today in the Capital City club. It was announced Monday. The prominent civic leaders will discuss facts concerning the local chamber.

Oyster Supper Tonight.

The Whiteford Avenue Baptist church will give an oyster supper from 6:30 to 9:30 o'clock tonight at the church. I. E. Alverson is chairman of the committee in charge.

MARINE CORPS
LEAGUE MEETS
HERE WEDNESDAY

The Marcus W. Beck, Jr., detachment of the Marine Corps league will hold its monthly meeting at 191-2 South Forsyth street at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. Forty new members, secured in the recent membership drive, will be initiated at this meeting.

Final arrangements will be made at the meeting for the military ball to be staged by the league at Taft hall Friday night. This ball is expected to be one of the most brilliant events of the season. Over 1,000 tickets have been sold and, according to reports from E. C. Anderson, the chairman of the entertainment committee, the sale of tickets is still brisk. Tickets are now on sale at the Royal Cigar store, Phillips & Crew and the North Side cafe.

SUTTON SPEAKER
BEFORE CREDIT MEN

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta public schools, will be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men, tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic club. Mr. Sutton will have for his subject "Statewide Development."

Radios and other features will mark the entertainment program.

Three More Days.

Only three more days remain for the payment of federal income taxes due on December 15. Joseph T. Rose, internal revenue collector for Georgia, warns Atlantans. Penalties are imposed by the government for delinquency in payment of the taxes.

COMMISSION DENIES LICENSE WAS ISSUED

The Georgia Securities commission has granted no license to persons to sell shares of stock of Gilmer & Co., of Louisiana, according to a statement made public Monday by Matt Bennett, chief of the commission. Mr. Bennett said the commission had received information that attempts have been made to sell this stock by telephone and over the long-distance telephone. He requested people to refrain from investing in the company until the commission could investigate it.

VALDOSTACentral of Georgia Railway Extends Holiday Greetings to Its Friends and Patrons

With the approach of Christmas and the New Year, the Central of Georgia Railway again takes this means of extending the season's greetings to its friends and patrons. In reviewing the record of 1927, the Central of Georgia finds many things in which it takes pride, and it takes a hopeful view of the year to come. The management is most appreciative of the patronage and good will of the traveling and shipping public, and equally so of the loyalty and co-operation of its employees.

The year Nineteen Twenty-Seven has witnessed some recession from the peak of business activity reached during the preceding year, but this condition has not been peculiar to the railroad nor even to this section and was perhaps only to be expected. A period of unusual development and expansion has, as in the past, been followed by one of lessened activity. Certain economic factors have assisted in bringing this about. The purchasing power of the farmer was reduced because of the comparatively low prices received for the 1926 cotton crop, and there was a slackening of abnormal building and allied activities in certain sections. But these changed conditions exerted no more than a temporary influence and the results of higher prices for cotton and other new crops are already making themselves felt in the stimulation of trade and commerce. New industries have been established in large numbers, and existing factories have made progress. This territory is steadily advancing toward a balanced development of agriculture and industry, which is a sure foundation for permanent prosperity.

Whether in personal affairs or in the broader aspects of general business, salutary lessons of efficiency and economy may be learned under the compulsion of circumstance. The railways of the Southeast (and of the country as a whole) in the face of decreased traffic have maintained adequate and dependable service. Their properties have been so improved and strengthened that they could protect their net revenues by retrenchments which in no wise affected their standard of service or involved the deterioration of physical plant, motive power or equipment. Nor has it been necessary to advance the cost of transportation service to the public. The tendency of rates is still downward, and only through increased efficiency and careful economy has it been possible to safeguard railroad earnings.

The year Nineteen Twenty-Eight dawns with fundamental conditions essentially sound. The management of this railroad believes that the new year will be one of substantial progress. Good transportation service will contribute to bringing this about, and it is with the pledge to continue and if possible to improve this railroad's service that the employees and the management of the Central of Georgia Railway extend holiday greetings to the company's friends and patrons.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

President, Central of Georgia Railway.

THEATER REVIEWS

"The Constant Wife" Proves Dramatic Treat of Season

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Quite a polished and finished exhibition of the drama at its best, something rare and welcome in these benighted theatrical days, was enjoyed at the Erlanger theater Monday night when Somerset Maugham's avulgar, killing comedy, "The Constant Wife," was flawlessly acted by a company of master players. With Lon Tellegen, Charlotte Walker, Norman Hackett and Emma Bunting in leading roles and supported by a perfect company, this attraction proved to be the dramatic treat, at least of this season, and assuredly is one of the most thoroughly satisfying shows in every particular that has appeared here.

From Oscar Wilde to Frederick Lonsdale and from Beaumont and Fletcher down to whoever happens to be tomorrow's epigrammatic lion, the creators of sparkling and brilliant lines in comedies have flashed and faded, but of all the list none is keener of wit nor is surer to send home his target than Somerset Maugham. This sharp-witted Englishman is trenchant and rapier-pointed in his thrusts and behind them he seemingly grins in a wealth of worldly wisdom and sound common sense. His "The Constant Wife" is but another contribution to add lustre to an already lustrous name, but it is decidedly the best thing in play that has appeared here since this same author's "The Circle" was enjoyed some several years ago.

Perfect Evening. To take such a play and place it in the hands of a company of mediocre players would have brought a treat to those who really love the best things of the stage, and when such a perfect and charming comedy, with its advanced and liberal theme, is played by such an able and admirable company as appeared here Monday night it is sufficient to say that a perfect evening at the play can be enjoyed at last.

From the rise of the curtain until the final word of the play is uttered, the audience is kept in a state of intense interest. The play is a pure gem. It scintillates, it sparkles, it bubbles with wit and humor. The play is a pure gem. It scintillates, it sparkles, it bubbles with wit and humor.

Junior Leaguers Feature Clever "Irene" Production

BY ERNEST RUBIN.

Courageous Walter Regan—In a few moments of naive dancing—and he must have seemed a few hours of torment to the Forsyth's leading man—he ingratiated himself into the kindly hearts of his audience with genuine sympathy—and adoration—as no leading man has ever done before.

Mr. Regan, the "Donald Marshall" of "Irene," that ever delightful musical comedy, featuring a celebrated Junior League chorus at the Forsyth theater this week, the first, but surely, after last night, not the last, of this variety of stage productions to be offered by the present cast.

Of course the Monday night audience, that even surpassed the record attendance set last week, came to see the young ladies of the Junior League step from the social light to the footlight. With what grace and beauty they did it!

"SORRELL AND SON," SHOWN AT HOWARD, IS HIGHLY PRAISED

The story of a man whose son believed in his dad, even when the latter was down and out—that "Sorrell and Son," the picture being shown at the Howard this week. They have said that "Sorrell and Son" is easily one of the five best pictures of the year.

The picture, directed by Herbert Brenson, who made "Beau Geste," is well directed and wonderfully—almost flawlessly—photographed. The leading part, that of Captain Stephen Sorrell, late of the British army, forced to become a hotel porter in the depression of post-war days in Great Britain, is played as only an actor like H. B. Warner could play it. He is well supported by a cast including Norman Trevor, Anna Q. Nilson, Louis Welheim and Carmel Myers.

To attempt any description of this really great picture is futile. The best thing to do is to see it.

On the stage Al Short presents "Orange Blossoms," supposed to have something to do with the marriage of a Spanish count. Al and his orchestra put over a good number, "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," and there were a couple of guitarists who drew out some of the songs. But the rest of this show wasn't up to the standard of previous stage offerings which Mr. Short has presented.

However, the picture will make up for any deficiencies on the stage. It is one of the best that's been in Atlanta for some time. Paramount Newsreel finished out the program.

Loughran Gets Precision Over Slattery in 15-Round Bout

Light Heavy Title Tangle Is Cleared Up

Philadelphia Battler Proves He Is Boss of His Division.

BY FRANK GETTY.

Madison Square Garden, New York, December 12.—(United Press.)—After 15 rounds of fast and fancy fighting which had the customers on the edge of their seats throughout the bout, Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, won the judges' decision over Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, in Madison Square Garden Monday night, thus acquiring reasonably undisputed title to the light-heavyweight championship.

There was plenty of unreasoned opposition from the Slattery adherents among the 15,000 spectators, however, and there will always be many who believe that Jimmy is the Philadelphia's master.

The decision was entirely fair, Loughran being the aggressor throughout most of the bout, besides winning six of the rounds, with five going to Slattery and four even.

Ready To Force Fight.
The new champion was ever ready to force the fighting, while "Slats" occasionally mounted a bicycle and back-peddled as furiously as did Gene Tunney in the famous seventh round at Chicago.

But for all Tommy's superior aggressiveness and harder hitting, this fight between the champion of the National Boxing Association and the champion of the New York State Athletic association was well worth watching. Slattery showed flurries of fight in which he rocked Loughran with left hooks and right crosses to the face which had the blood running from cuts beneath the Philadelphia's eyes, and about his mouth.

"Slats" has built himself up into quite a brood of a lad since last he showed his fists in a bout with New York, and he proved that by now he can go the championship distance of 15 rounds without wearing himself out.

Loughran earned clean title to the championship by winning the fight in which he rocked Loughran with left hooks and right crosses to the face which had the blood running from cuts beneath the Philadelphia's eyes, and about his mouth.

After that fight, if successful, the Philadelphia plans to seek a bout with Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, in order that there may be no doubt as to who is light-heavyweight champion of the world.

21 PLAYERS ARE SELECTED FOR COAST 11

Los Angeles, Calif., December 12.—(AP)—Coaches Howard Jones, of the University of Southern California, and Bill Spaulding, of the University of California, at Los Angeles, today selected 21 members of the aggregation which will meet an all-Southern football team here December 26. Two more players will be added to the squad within the next few days, the coaches said.

The players named today are:
Ends: Douglas, Washington; Moser, Southern California; Robbins, Oregon State.
Tackles: Scheving, Southern California; Vierbus, Montana; Raiser, Gonzaga; Bradley, Oregon State; Hutchison, Idaho; Hudson, University of California at Los Angeles.
Guards: Heiser, Southern California; Shaw, Washington; Davis, C. L. A.; Hodgen, Oregon.
Centers: Bonamy, Washington; Lamson, Washington.
Quarterbacks: Lavaneta, Southern California; Luby, Oregon State.
Fullbacks: Tesreau, Washington; Tunney, Loyola (Los Angeles).

Baseball Men Turn Thoughts To Draft Rule

Action Taken by "Steering" Committee at Meeting Not Disclosed.

New York, December 12.—(AP)—While managers of major league clubs started casting about in the player market today, club officials gathered here for the annual meetings of the American and National leagues focused on the "steering" committee, representing both major circuits met with Commissioner Landis.

What decision of policies, if any, was reached by this steering group was not disclosed. It was indicated, however, that the managers will insist on retention of a draft arrangement with the big minor league circuits, accompanying such insistence with a threat to leave these circuits "out in the cold" on player transactions unless the draft relations continue.

On for Some Time.

This struggle between the majors and AA minors, including the International American association, and Pacific Coast leagues, has been going on for some time. It was brought to the fore recently at Dallas, Texas, when the minor league convention demanded that these big circles, along with the Western and "Three Eye" loops, abandon the "modified draft" relations now effective with the majors. Under the modified draft, the only players subject to recall by the majors are those who have served previously under the "big top." The full draft entitles the majors to a choice of all the material. The modified enables the big minors to hold their newly developed stars and sell them for high prices, such as in the recent case of Cissell, infielder sold by Portland, Ore., to the Chicago White Sox for a reported $125,000.

The big minor circles consistently have balked at restoration of the full draft. They are expected to maintain this stand even though it leads to a full-scale conflict. What tactics this conflict may involve largely depends now on the action of the joint minor league business session on Thursday.

The National league meeting is scheduled tomorrow and the American league's session Wednesday.

Petrel Squad To Be Honored Here Tonight

Captain for 1928 Will Be Named at Annual Banquet.

BY FRED McEACHIS.

When all of the battles have been fought and the campaign is ended and the armor has been put away until another campaign, it is customary that the crusaders of the conflicts be feasted and a session of merrymaking and celebration be held.

This ancient tradition of "fe olden times" will be observed tonight at the Henry Grady hotel by the gridiron warriors of Oglethorpe university, at which time a banquet will be given in their honor.

The entire Petrel squad will be on hand for the festivities tonight. It is expected that Coach Harry Robertson will get in the capacity of toastmaster and award letters to the men who have played in sufficient games to deserve one.

Captain To Be Named.

The outstanding feature of the evening's entertainment will be the election of a captain to lead the Stormy Petrels of 1928. There are several stars returning to join the team next fall, and it will be no trouble to choose a leader who will prove worthy of his task. Major Guthrie, 1927 captain, star guard and mentioned for various all S. I. A. A. eleven, graduates this year, and will be a great loss to the Petrels. Among the most likely candidates for the captaincy of the '28 Petrel machine are Clement, Perkins, Sims, Vaughn and Talaferro.

Among others who will be present tonight are Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, Coach Robertson, Coach Campbell, Coach Chestnut and newspaper representatives.

A resume of the won-and-loss column of the Petrels this year does not reveal any enviable record, but with many stars returning next season, it is expected that the Oglethorpe team will be much stronger. The players who are expected to return next year are Clement, Burford, Perkins, Sims, Coffee, Feinberg, Malshy, Martin, Talaferro, Vaughn, Fox, Wall, Mims, Darnell, Aldridge and Brooks. The following regulars will not return next year, being lost to their team through graduation: Captain Guthrie, Smith, Gordy, Hutsy, Shepherd, Garlington, White and Hancock.

OGLETHORPE CAGERS START BASKET WORK

With the football season definitely closed for the Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe university and the head gears and cleated shoes packed in moth balls for another year, the Birds are now turning to basketball, their next major sport.

When the first call to the court was sounded a group of enthusiastic basketballers responded and judging from the pep and spirited manner in which they have taken up the early practices it is very apparent that the Petrels should be in for a successful season.

Captain Haywood Clement leads the Oglethorpe quintet this year, and together with such stars as Bass, Massey, Sheridan, Bell, Garlinghouse, Feinberg and others a formidable five should be groomed by Coach Robertson which should be one of the best.

The "Stormy Petrel" of American tennis, who is in this city for a brief theatrical engagement, made known his attitude and plans when asked for comment on the decision of the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association to challenge for the Davis cup in the American zone. Tilden, declaring he was backed by other players, had urged the committee to challenge in the European zone.

To Sail For France.
"I am quite positive that the so-called 'unanimous vote' was no such thing," Tilden said, "but that's only a detail and the decision will not interfere with the plans which Hunter and I have made to bid once again for the French and British titles. I talked with Hunter in Providence yesterday and we will sail for France around the first of May."

"We shall not return until the middle of August and for that reason we naturally will not be available for selection for Davis cup play in the American zone at least."

Tilden asserted that he and his partner had decided against American zone play because "Neither Hunter nor myself believe that it would be possible in the event that we were here to go abroad and get into condition for winning play in Europe by as late a date as the American Lawn Tennis association plans to send the team over."

"Neither of us is willing to play if there is no chance of winning. Neither of us is willing to lose points for the United States if we can win points."

"That is our attitude on American zone play. Whether or not, if America wins in the American zone, our services would be sought in inter-zone play abroad is entirely up to the U. S. L. T. A. We shall be available to them over there, but not in the American zone."

Don't Forget.
The way things have speeded up now it's a good thing to remember that it is only about 375 days until the next Christmas.

this season, but judging from his reception on that and past performances at the city auditorium Matchmaker Contos is confident that the Atlanta fans want to see more of the Hellenic star.

Paul Jones on Card.
In addition to the Hanson-Londos bout Matchmaker Contos will again present Paul Jones, the popular young Texan, in the main event. There has been some delay in the selection of Jones' opponent, owing to Contos' desire to obtain the best opponent obtainable. That selection will be made public shortly.

As previously announced, Matchmaker Contos is offering the Thursday night show at popular prices. He says that it is his Christmas present to the wrestling fans of Atlanta and believes that it will be appreciated to the extent of bringing out the largest house that has been seen at a wrestling match here this season.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS.

A Grudge Bout.

"In the next tent, indeeds an' gentlunum we have"—another grudge fight. Johnny Vickers, the choir singer of Buckhead or North Atlanta or whatever name you choose to apply to that blooming home of subdivisions and barbecue, freely admits that he is going to fight Carter Morgan, his former teacher, and that the winner will take all of the $10.

Yessir, Johnny admits that some opprobrious words have passed between himself and Mr. Morgan and that Mr. Morgan even went so far as to declare that he could lick Mr. Vickers at any time and at any place under any conditions named by a disinterested third party.

Them's hard words to say to a cauliflower gentleman, especially just after that gentleman has been put to sleep with the leather pusher's lullaby, and Johnny is mad. Real mad.

To thrust all joking aside, it is entirely possible that here is one grudge bout which is just that. Regardless of the "winner take all" terms the bout between Johnny and the older Morgan should be a most interesting affair because the Buckhead boy is in the position of having to square himself in the eyes of a new and devoted wife who watched Casey Jones send her youthful hubby to dreamland scarcely two weeks ago.

The bout will take place as one of the preliminaries at the Ringside club tonight, and personally, we have just enough curiosity about this affair to go and see the imbroiglio in person.

That bout, however, would not bring us to the arena if our friend Ted Goodrich were not to appear on the same card. This Goodrich fellow, who happens to be named Corley in real life and who—contrary to published reports—has fought several times in Atlanta, the last time being against Spike Webb two weeks ago at the Ringside club, is quite some leather pusher. He is one of the finest defensive fighters in the game today. This fact is well attested by the fact that he is practically unmarked and has engaged in nearly 100 fights in the last eight years.

He fights Dixie Sullivan in the main attraction and the way this Birmingham boy beat Tommy O'Rourke last week would indicate that he can give Ted a run for the bell. However, our dime is bet on Ted Goodrich and it's not place money either.

You know, there's something attractive about this Ringside club. They do not claim to stage $10 fights for $1 nor do they stage $1 fights and charge $3 for the seats. Such a club has been needed in Atlanta for some years and this one seems to be filling the bill pretty well.

If you are expecting to see a $10 top fight do not go to the Ringside club but if you are just looking for your money's worth it's not a bad place to spend an evening.

This card tonight promises to give some action. And we recommend this lad Goodrich as a great tonic to the tired business man. He is clever and he can hit.

Marines Hold Assembly.
While on the subject of indoor sporting events we call to mind that this is the week when the terrible "Devil Dogs" of the U. S. marine corps and their former comrades who have now retired to private life answer assembly at their second annual dance.

The affair is to be held Friday night at the city auditorium and with 1,000 tickets already sold it is quite probable that anyone starting a war on that particular night would be wise to go elsewhere for his starting.

The big "hop" follows just 24 hours after the big wrestling match and we are assured by Sergeant Bob Gordon that there is no connection between the two events as regards technique.

S. I. A. A. X-Country Run Is Cancelled
Regular practices are being held daily in the Oglethorpe gym and will continue up until the Christmas holidays which commence on December 22.

Although a complete schedule has not been released by Manager Joe Dekel it is believed that an attractive schedule will be arranged which will offer the Petrels plenty of opposition. The opening game is slated with the A. A. C. team to be played on their court January 7.

Clinton, Miss., December 12.—(AP)—The S. I. A. A. cross-country run scheduled to be held here next Saturday has been cancelled. G. M. Bohler, director of athletics at Mississippi college, announced today.

Cancellation resulted, it was stated, because a large number of S. I. A. A. members dismissed for the Christmas vacation on Friday.

Ted Goodrich And Sullivan Meet Tonight

Large Crowd Expected To See Fight at Ringside Club.

The biggest crowd that has yet attended one of the weekly boxing shows at the Ringside club, Broad and Mitchell streets, is expected to sit on the 10-round main event tonight between Ted Goodrich, of Atlanta, and Dixie Sullivan, of Birmingham.

Three preliminary matches will open the show. Jimmy Murphy, who has fought Baby Stribling to draws on two separate occasions, will mix with Young Carter in the 8-round semi-windup. Carter has scored eight knockout victories in as many scraps.

In one of the two six-rounders on the program a clothing store owner, Buckhead choir singer and pugilist, will tackle Carter Morgan. That bout takes on added interest in view of the opponents' agreement to sit on the basis of winter take all of the purse for their match.

The other six-rounder will involve two local scrappers, Add Tilton against Spike Kelly.

Goodrich appeared on the opening card of the Ringside club several weeks ago against Spike Webb and made quite a lasting impression on the local fans. Goodrich has adopted Atlanta as his home and is anxious to become a favorite with the fans.

In addition to boasting a wallop that makes all of his foes cautious and wary, Goodrich is one of the fastest and cleverest boxers seen in action around here in some time. In addition to that, he has developed considerable resistance to punches and is hard to slow up.

An indication of Goodrich's future as a fighter is given from the fact that Walk Miller, manager of the late Tiger Flowers and nationally famous in pugilistic circles, thought enough of Ted to sign him to a five-year contract. He will soon make his New York debut.

Tickets for tonight's match are available at Hack Ebel's billiard parlor.

SPEED BOAT RECORDS FALL IN CALIFORNIA

San Diego, Cal., December 12.—(AP)—Smashing all records for hydroplanes of the 151 class, limited and unlimited, and wrecking at the same time records for all hydroplanes up to the 225 class, the Angles I, limited 151 class hydroplane, and the Miss Spitfire V, unlimited 151 class hydroplane, made racing history in the concluding events today of the national championship speed boat regatta.

The Miss Spitfire V, owned by Marion H. Rand and driven by Ralph Snodgrass, was the star of the day, but Miss California, also in the 151 unlimited class, owned by Dick Loyne and W. O. Harris and driven by Dick Loyne, was a close contender. The latter boosted the former world record of 52.02 miles an hour to 54.55 miles an hour only to have Miss Spitfire V, smash the new record with 55.42 miles an hour.

The Angles I, broke records in the 151 limited class. In the fourth heat for these boats she hung up a world's record of 47.12 miles an hour; in the fifth heat the Kathleen, owned by J. H. Glass and driven by L. L. Walker, nosed her out with a mark of 40.86 miles in a comparatively slow race, and in the sixth heat she broke the former world's record again with a mark of 47.07 miles.

HANSON MAKES TOUGH FOE FOR LONDOS

"Outside of Joe Stecher I believe that Charley Hanson is the toughest opponent that Jimmy Londos has met in Atlanta."

That is the opinion of Matchmaker John Contos, expressed yesterday in regard to the wrestling show at the city auditorium Thursday night. Hanson and Londos are meeting in the 15-minute match and there are reasons for believing that it will be one of the most spectacular scraps ever offered at the city auditorium.

The two opponents are about even in size and speed. Londos has made numerous appearances here and is well known for his ability as a wrestler, who sticks to scientific tactics in his efforts to provide thrills for the fans and at the same time add to his ever increasing string of victories.

Hanson Downs Browning.
Hanson was introduced here last week in a gripping bout with Jim Browning and for one solid hour those two matmen gave the fans one thrill after another. Hanson earned the only fall of the match after 40 minutes of terrific wrestling. As the match was billed to be decided by two out of three falls, the wrestlers continued their argument, but in the remaining 20 minutes neither was able to obtain an advantage over the other. Hence Hanson won.

Hanson is able to continue at a fast clip indefinitely and that is conclusive proof that he practices what he preaches as physical culture expert. Hanson is a great believer in well regulated exercise, but in an interview last week pointed out the dangers of exercise that is not regulated, nor taken for a specific purpose.

Londos has wrestled here only once

THE CONSTITUTION EXPRESS

Boys

Girls

It's Easy ONLY 3 NEW (Daily and Sunday) SUBSCRIPTIONS NEEDED

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION makes it possible for thousands of boys and girls in Georgia, and especially the city of Atlanta and suburbs, to possess the "Constitution Express."

This smooth-running, $\frac{3}{4}$ -in.-tired COASTER WAGON wins its way into the heart of every child that sees it. It's the dandiest COASTER WAGON ever given away by any newspaper. It has a large-sized hardwood body (16x36 inches) finished with glistening varnish and brilliant paint. Heavy steel bolsters front and rear are extra braced. Silent running roller bearings and extra heavy single disc wheels make this the fastest and hand-somest COASTER WAGON that you have ever seen. Tires are solid rubber.

Strong--Swift--Silent

You cannot surpass this handsome "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagon for strength and durability. No old-fashioned wood bolsters to split and crack — The "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" has bolsters of heavy steel. Wheels have roller bearings, just like the big automobiles.

Read These Instructions:

New subscriptions must be from persons not at present subscribers to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, nor have been for the last thirty days, and must not, directly or indirectly, take the place of someone who is now or has been a recent subscriber.

Such new subscriptions will be acceptable in Atlanta and in any town where The Constitution has a carrier delivery service, provided the new subscriptions are acceptable to the carrier.

Contestant's SUBSCRIPTION BOOK

Gentlemen:

Deliver or mail to me your COASTER WAGON book for subscription blanks and instructions for securing three new six-months' subscriptions to The Daily and Sunday Constitution for the "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS," as advertised by you in The Constitution.

Name

No. Street or Avenue

P. O. Box No. State

HOW TO EARN ONE

If you want one of these beautiful "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagons, the first thing to do is to clip out the coupon at the left, bring or mail it to The Constitution for a Contest Book. When you get the book, if "Dad" isn't a subscriber to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, get his subscription first and then you will need two more.

THREE DAILY AND SUNDAY NEW SIX-MONTHS' SUBSCRIPTIONS.

That's all! Just three new Daily and Sunday six-months' subscriptions are required to earn one of these beautifully finished "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagons. You are not to collect any money.

IT'S EASY WORK!

It will take you only a short time to get three new subscribers to The Constitution, because everyone knows that The Atlanta Constitution is Atlanta's outstanding newspaper. Besides helping you earn your "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS," the people who sign the agreement or contract for you are receiving the news of the world, interesting reading articles and features for every member of the family for six months.

Start out right now! It's more like fun than work. Get a contract book, secure from good, reliable, financially responsible subscribers, "signature of each," bring or send it to The Constitution office. After the subscriptions are verified and found "O. K.," the wagon is yours.

Read These Instructions Carefully:

Out-of-town workers must turn their coupon book of subscriptions, after it has been filled out with the required number of subscriptions, each signed by the subscriber himself, over to the local Constitution dealer for his acceptance of the new subscriptions.

Newsdealer will indicate his acceptance by writing on the back of the subscription agreement "O. K., accepted by me," and sign his name. Then the book with required number of accepted subscriptions to be sent to The Constitution.

COASTER WAGONS will be shipped by express (collect) to out-of-town workers. Those who live in Atlanta and suburban towns will get the wagons at The Constitution office.

GROVE PLANS TO FIGHT NURSE'S SLANDER SUIT

St. Louis, Mo., December 12.—(AP) Edwin W. Grove, Jr., son of the late medicine manufacturer, who recently was named defendant in a $100,000 slander suit filed at Asheville, N. C., by Miss Ruby Dellinger, a nurse, told newspapers today he would "resist this suit to the utmost."

Miss Dellinger charged that the younger Grove circulated "false and defamatory statements" about her while she was employed as a nurse for his father in a Philadelphia hotel, and that he caused her to be driven from the city.

He admitted that he had rented a room in the hotel under an assumed name adjoining that which his father occupied, and that he bored a hole through the wall to watch the nurse, but denied that he had detectives at the hotel with him, as Miss Dellinger charged.

"I did say she was guilty of improper relations, but not immoral relations," Grove said to newspapers. "I accused her of trying to get my father's property and I can prove what I said. I will resist this suit to the utmost."

Grove's comment was made during the trial of a civil suit in which Fred L. Seely, of Asheville, his brother-in-law, sought unsuccessfully to obtain a majority share in his late father's Paris Medicine company here, of which Grove now is president.

EMBEZZLED MONEY LOST IN GAMBLING HOUSE, SAYS GIRL

Memphis, Tenn., December 12.—(AP) While D. M. Butts, 30, a bookkeeper, was being held today at Ashport, Ark., on a charge of embezzling $7,000 from the Wellington Chevrolet company here, Memphis police announced that Miss Virginia Mitchell, his pretty 19-year-old assistant, had told of their visits to roadhouses where the money was lost in gambling.

Butts, known to his fellow workers as a model husband and father, was alleged to have fled the city Saturday night after writing a note to company officials in which he confessed to taking the money.

The police report said Miss Mitchell told of taking $400 from the company cash register Saturday afternoon and turning it over to Butts. She was arrested on an embezzlement charge.

Butts is married and has one child.

LEAGUE COUNCIL CLOSES MEETING

Geneva, December 12.—(AP)—With four international problems, including the Polish-Lithuanian controversy, on the way to settlement as a result of its deliberations, the 48th session of the council of the League of Nations adjourned this morning to meet in March.

To the very end, it is felt in league circles, a spirit of mutual concession in the interest of securing accords on the various problems dominated the council's deliberations.

Officials said that no arrangements to convene the March session at Rome has been made, although Rome has been suggested in some quarters as a way of bringing about a meeting of the Council of Ministers of France, and Premier Mussolini without the French foreign minister making a special journey to Rome for an opportunity to adjust Franco-Italian relations.

The French representatives here seem desirous of having the March session in Rome and it is possible that conversations will take place among the council members concerning this within the next month or two.

The Polish-Lithuanian dispute was liquidated by an agreement of the two countries to enter into direct negotiations with each other for the settlement of their differences, and it is likely that a conference soon will be held at Riga, Latvia.

The ceaseless activities of the council, since its opening in September, and the various problems, have been the subject of much discussion in the press. The council's work has been the subject of much discussion in the press.

WARE GRAND JURY ASKS FOR 2 NURSES

Waycross, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—The county commissioners have been requested by the Ware county grand jury to appropriate $100 a month for the employment of two public health nurses. It is expected that the city commission of Waycross will make a similar appropriation.

Judge H. D. Steele, in his charge stated that Ware county ought to have, at least, two public health nurses charged with the duty of following up physical examinations and seeing to it that the recommendations of the health commissioner were carried out.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creosolun, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creosolun is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creosolun contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creosolun is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—(adv.)

EGYPTIAN COTTON GINNED ESTIMATED TO BE 287,690 TONS

Alexandria, Egypt, December 12.—(AP)—The final official estimate of the Egyptian cotton crop for 1927 puts the yield of seed at 5,833,162 cantars (roughly 280,627 tons), of which 2,580,065 cantars (123,333 tons), is of the Sakellariis variety.

The amount ginned is estimated at 6,041,490 cantars (297,080 tons), of which 2,520,332 cantars (120,016 tons) is Sakellariis.

FISHING BOAT STANDS BY FOR MEN ON STRANDED LINER

Campbell River, B. C., December 12.—(AP)—Stranded after being driven aground in a gale a few miles south of here yesterday, the liner Northwestern was reported listed considerably tonight while a fishing boat stood by to bring back 26 members of the crew who refused to desert the vessel yesterday.

While the storm-tossed waters drenched the decks of the Northwestern, 112 passengers and 49 of the ship's personnel were transferred to the halibut schooner, Explorer, and sheltered in this port. It was not known here whether Captain Jack Livingston, commander of the Northwestern, and the rest of his crew still were aboard tonight.

The report that the ship was listing was received from the lighthouse tender, Estevan, which visited the ship at Cape Mudge, ten miles south of here, at the season of Seymour Narrows. Much of the hand luggage of the passengers still is aboard the Northwestern or on the halibut standing by.

Husband of Bank Robber Declares His Wife Insane

LaGrange, Texas, December 12.—(AP) "Strange" actions of Rebecca Bradley Rogers as a child at home, a student at Texas university and as a bride of a fellow student, Otis Rogers, were related in Mrs. Rogers' bank robbery trial here today by her mother, her husband and former university associates, testifying as defense witnesses.

Rogers, member of the defense counsel, and Campbell Beard, university political science instructor, said they believed her insane. Both testified that Mrs. Rogers was cold, morose and seemingly depressed at times and yet vivacious and "happy" at other times, changing quickly from one mood to another.

Mrs. G. E. Bradley told how her daughter developed intense interests and dropped them as suddenly as she had conceived them and related that the girl's father, her divorced husband, had been "retiring and morose," an unsuccessful inventor and reader of the German pessimist, Schopenhauer.

District Attorney Fred Blundell cross-examined Mrs. Bradley and Rogers about the blue-black automobile pistol which the state alleges Mrs. Rogers used to hold up and rob the Farmers' National Bank of Buda, Texas, of $1,000 last December. Both said she knew nothing about firearms.

Rogers' secret marriage to the defendant, then Rebecca Bradley, was revealed after the bank robbery.

The husband testified that before he left the University of Texas in

Bee-Line Paving Plans To Be Laid At McRae Meet

McRae, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—A state road meeting will be held here Wednesday to arouse interest and organize concerted efforts looking to the paving of the "Bee-Line" highway from Brunswick, Ga., to Baxley, Hazlehurst, Lumbier City, McRae, Eastman, Hawkinsville and Perry to complete a hard-surfaced highway from Macon to Brunswick.

R. N. Dopeson, chairman of the Telfair county board of commissioners; Judge Max L. McRae, mayor of McRae; W. D. Horton, editor of the Telfair Enterprise; and John Knox, of Lumbier City, newly-elected road commissioner of Telfair county, have been named as the local committee.

The meeting will be held at the American Legion clubhouse, in Legion park, and the city of McRae is planning an enthusiastic entertainment to the visitors as it is expected that delegations from Glynn, Wayne, Appling, Jeff Davis, Telfair, Dodge and Pulaski counties will be present. Luncheon will be served the visitors by a local women's club.

The state highway department recently announced that the highway from Chattanooga to Atlanta would be hard surfaced by the end of 1928, and as the highway is already hard surfaced from Atlanta to Macon and Perry, the hard surfacing of the "Bee-Line" route from Brunswick to Perry would give a complete hard-surfaced road from northern routes to Georgia's sea coast. We Want Men

The Southern States Life Insurance Company is rapidly completing a program that includes the introduction of educational, juvenile, monthly income, monthly premium payment and other policies, both in participating and nonparticipating form, with features that will put this great insurance company of the south in the forefront of successful low priced conservative companies.

We are anxious to obtain for our Home Office Agency in Atlanta a few high-grade men who can be trained and developed into successful life insurance salesmen. These men must be of good character, reliable but who, while successful, have reached the limit of their earning power in their present occupations.

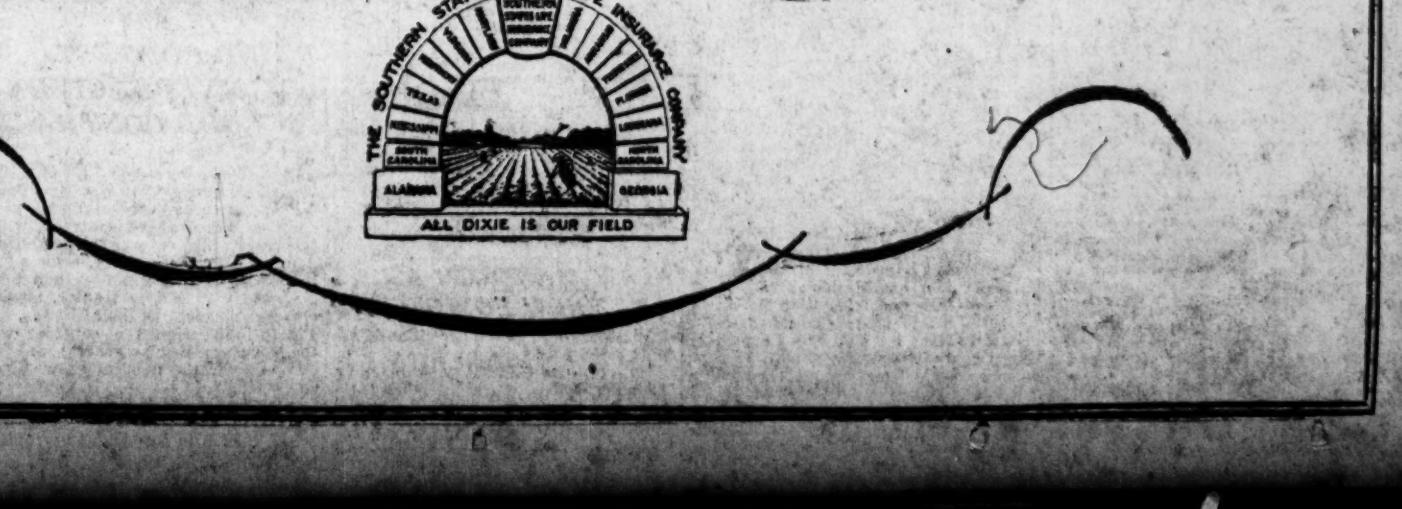

Such men will be given a real course of training that will enable them to successfully sell through Southern Life policies

"Safford's Southern States Service"

We believe we can double the income of hard-working salesmen. If you are interested, call on Mr. Don F. Safford, General Agent, personally at 1311-15 Candler Building.

AMOS HAYES, WIFE DIE OF POISONING

Amos Hayes and his wife in their illness. He said on the stand that inorganic poisoning had caused the death of Mrs. Hayes, who was summoned here from her home in Detroit upon the death of her husband. The latter had come here several weeks previously for the funeral of his brother.

The physician described the condition and treatment of Mrs. Hayes in detail, declaring she died five days after from what the autopsy later indicated was arsenic poisoning, although he at first had suspected mercurial poisoning. In the post-mortem examination, a quantity of strychnine was revealed, he said, explaining that symptoms produced by arsenic and strychnine were similar in many respects.

Objected to Autopsy.
Harris Hayes, he continued, objected to the autopsy but it was ordered by the authorities and performed the next day.

Dr. Holland added that previously he had been summoned to attend Amos Hayes, who, he said, suffered from the same symptoms exhibited later by his wife. When he failed to respond to treatment, the physician declared, he had him moved from the home of his father to a hospital at Duluth, Ala., where he died.

"Was there any difference in the symptoms of Gladys (Mrs. Amos Hayes) and Amos?" the solicitor asked.

"They were identical," Dr. Holland replied.

"Did you endeavor to have an autopsy performed before the burial of Amos?"

"Yes."

"Was any performed before burial?"

"No."

The body of Amos, which was exhumed after the death of his wife, revealed 92-100ths of a grain of strychnine, according to the solicitor, who then asked the physician:

"What would you say caused his death?"

"Strychnine caused death," Dr. Holland declared.

"Did strychnine cause the symptoms before you carried him to the hospital?"

"No."

"If the autopsy revealed 92-100ths of a grain, how much would you say was in the body altogether?"

"About four or five grains," Dr. Holland said, adding that one-half grain was a lethal dose.

In response to another question, Dr. Holland declared that Harris Hayes was at home when he treated both patients, but manifested no apparent anxiety and made no inquiry as to whether their illnesses might be contagious.

"What did he say about the autopsy?" the solicitor pursued.

"He said there would be no autopsy," Dr. Holland said.

Dr. Holland said that he prescribed a medicinal dose of strychnine—about one-fortieth of a grain—for Mrs. Hayes among other stimulants and antidotes he administered to her, explaining, however, that when taken in such medicinal form the poison would not be revealed quantitatively in a post-mortem analysis.

Prescribed No Strychnine.
He prescribed no strychnine for Amos Hayes, he asserted.

The physician was subjected to a stiff cross-examination by the defense on the subject of strychnine dosage and effects but he was not shaken in essential details of his testimony.

Frank Coleman, an Alban, druggist, was called as the second state witness to testify that while employed in a drug store here in September, 1921, he sold Harris Hayes 60 grains of strychnine.

On cross examination, he said Hayes told him he wanted the poison to kill vermin that was destroying his turkeys, and the defense brought out that the practice of erecting vermin by such methods was a common one among farmers.

Paul Pope, an undertaker of Bainbridge, testified that while he was employed in that business here, he was called to embalm the young Mrs. Hayes' body, and was told by Harris Hayes to "go ahead" and do it immediately. He refused, he said, because he had been ordered not to do so until the authorities performed an autopsy. Whereupon, he said, Hayes threatened to "go to Duluth and get an embalmer" if he did not do so.

THE AIR WAVES.

BY WILL SMITH
A single robin does not make a summer, neither does one good program make radio a success for the listener.

The single robin in the apple tree may indicate the approach of a balmy day and the good program may indicate the approach of a better day in radio. We say "may" advisedly for good programs in this day are the exception rather than the rule.

Radio broadcasting may have reached the point of stagnation or it may be stalling long enough to catch its breath before making any further strides. We hope the latter is true.

Regardless of this fact, however, receptive conditions Monday night were very good and we enjoyed a number of out-of-town broadcasts as well as the minstrel show staged by the Frigidaire corporation during the General Motors "family party" which came to us through WSB.

While everyone does not care for the minstrel type of entertainment, we feel that thousands of others, just like the Dial Twister, thoroughly enjoy this type of musical potpourri, if it may be called musical.

We tried a stunt Monday night, to see just how far off the track we were in regard to the question of broadcasting. We tuned into ten stations from Chicago to New York, and in between from 7 to 8 o'clock and this is what we found:

No. 1—Jazz piano, playing "Ain't She Sweet."
No. 2—Jazz orchestra, playing (and murdering) "Blue Heaven."
No. 3—Couple at piano, wise cracks and ballads.
No. 4—Soprano. (Didn't stay long.)
No. 5—Dance orchestra, playing "Blissful Days" (not the same).
No. 6—Tender solo, with electrical interference to help.

No. 7—Piano. Excellently played.
No. 8—String trio. Fair.
No. 9—Jazz orchestra, playing "Blue Heaven" (Better).
No. 10—Jazz orchestra, playing "On a Dew, Dew Dew Day" (and not so good trumpet solo).

That was the gist of what we heard while waiting for the General Motors minstrel show. Try it yourself and then let the Dial Twister know what your results were. Your evening's sport should really make good reading for the rest of the fans who follow this column with as much patience as they dial their way about the ether each evening.

The "Petrel Follies," starring the talented students of Oglethorpe university takes place Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the Atlanta Women's club, under the sponsorship of the dramatic club, and the proceeds will be applied to the endowment fund of the college. A ravishing fashion show concludes the program, the mannequins wearing stunning costumes furnished by George Muse Clothing company in which the following prominent members of the club take part: Misses Evelyn Branch, Betty Strickling, Elsie Prater, Ruth Brooke, Mary Gunter, Mary Harris, Theodosia Hunnicutt, Marion Wolff, Angel Allen, Mary Buchanan, Louise Madden; Carroll Thompson, Frank Inman, Murphy Judd, Pete Davenport, Jake Sutton, Bill Perkins, Ben Eubanks, Bob Shepherd, Charles Willis, Stewart Gould, Fred Griffin, Paul Madden and Allen Watkins. Earl Blackwell is director general and Dwight Horton director of dance.

The program includes a tango dance by Miss Angel Allen and Charles Willis; Miss Mary Harris will impersonate Josephine Baker and dance the black bottom; Miss Mary Buchanan impersonates Texas Guinan; Miss Euzenia Buchanan, who possesses an exquisite mezzo-soprano voice, sings "My Heart Stood Still"; Miss Sarah Sharp does a tap dance; Robert Harbour renders a Spanish dance; Miss Helena Callaway and Dwight Horton sing "Fraternity Blues"; and a charming little dance goes with the song; Louise Madden and Paul Madden execute a "Bowery Dance" number; Miss Theodosia Hunnicutt, Charles Willis, Jake Sutton and Paul Madden take part in a burlesque skit, entitled "Shame On the City"; while the "Backward Skit" features Miss Mary Buchanan, Bill Perkins, Paul Madden and Ed Garlington.

Fulton Chapter, U. D. C., Plans To Entertain Board.

Fulton chapter, U. D. C., met Friday in the pine room of the Ansley hotel, with Mrs. L. D. T. Quinby, president, presiding. Plans were completed for the entertainment of the executive board of the Georgia division, U. D. C., which will convene in Atlanta the latter part of January with the Fulton chapter as hostess. Mrs. Hope H. Davis, chairman of ways and means, made a report on the bridge party recently given by the chapter. Owing to a prolonged absence from the city, Mrs. Davis resigned as chairman of this committee. Regret was expressed. Mrs. Quinby appointed Mrs. J. R. Wakefield to this chairmanship. Mrs. H. G. Andrews, chairman of Soldiers' home committee, told of her plans for the Christmas party at the home December 21. Mrs. U. L. Irvine, historian, was present and gave two papers on the "Early Life of Baldwin County" and the "Oconee Indians in Georgia." Mrs. Quinby made a report on the Charleston convention and was given a rising vote of thanks.

End Fat The way is now easy and pleasant

Anybody who suffers from excess fat should learn what modern science offers. Don't starve, don't over-exercise. Combat the real cause. Supply your system with that which turns food into fuel and energy rather than into fat.

Modern research discovered that way some two decades ago. It was then embodied in Marmola's prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Today the results are seen and told everywhere. Most people are slender. All modern styles are adapted to them. They have prevented their systems with the natural factors which prevent the formation of fat.

Users of Marmola do not attempt abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. They simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. New vivacity, new health comes at the same time.

The methods are not secret. Each box of Marmola contains the formula and the reasons for results. You know what you are taking, and the scientific reasons for the benefits which come.

Start Marmola now. You cannot afford to stay fat. Beauty, health and fitness require normal weight. Watch the results for a month, and they will delight you. Then tell the facts to others. Why wait another day?

Marmola's prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his supplier.

Norman Hackett, dramatic star in "The Constant Wife," will address the meeting of the Atlanta Drama league this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown, 128 East Seventeenth street.

Peebles St. P. T. A. Gives Program.

Peebles Street school pupils, faculty and members of the P. T. A. presented a very instructive "Arbor Day" and "Joel Chandler Harris" program at the school Friday. On account of disagreeable weather the program was given in the school hall, instead of having the open air exercises as planned, this change depriving parents of the opportunity of attending on account of lack of room in the auditorium.

All numbers on the program were given most interestingly. "The Tree," resplendent with sincere appreciation, the love of "Uncle Remus" for children and all things beautiful, were the outstanding expressions throughout the program.

Tree Planting Takes Place Wednesday at Wren's Nest.

The Uncle Remus Memorial association will have a tree planting on the grounds of the Wren's Nest Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in honor of Mrs. A. McDermott Wilson, the life president of the association, and Mrs. E. L. Connolly, late beloved first vice president.

Miss Jane Dillon To Be Honored During Holidays

Miss Jane Dillon, lovely schoolgirl daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Dillon, will arrive from the University of Illinois at Champagne, Ill., Thursday, December 22, to spend the holidays with her parents at their home on Piedmont road.

A round of gay Christmas parties will mark Miss Dillon's visit, among which will be the bridge-tee at which Miss Kathleen Pierson will entertain in her honor Friday, December 23, at her home on Oakdale road.

Mrs. Dillon will give a buffet luncheon in compliment to her daughter during the holidays, the date to be announced later.

Mrs. Dillon has recently returned from the University of Illinois, where she visited her daughter at the Alpha Delta Pi sorority house and was delightfully entertained at a series of lovely affairs.

O. E. S. Chapter Calls Meeting.

Oakland City, No. 290, O. E. S., will have a special call meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the hall at Oakland City for the purpose of initiating a class of candidates. Rose Mae Ashley, worthy grand marshal of the general grand chapter, will give the receiving lecture. Mrs. Kate Moser, worthy matron, and Wray Turner, worthy patron, invite all qualified members to attend.

King-Ayers Wedding Plans Are Of Wide Social Interest

Cordial social interest centers in the announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Josephine King, of Atlanta, and Herbert Ayers, of Atlanta, formerly of Hartwell.

The marriage will be solemnized at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, December 28, at the home of the brother on St. Charles avenue. The simple but impressive ring ceremony will be performed by the Rev. S. R. Bell in the presence of a representative gathering of relatives and friends.

Preceding the ceremony an appropriate program of nuptial music will be rendered featuring a number of delightful violin solos. The lovely bride will enter to the strains of the wedding chorus from "Lohengrin."

Miss King has chosen as her maid of honor her niece, Miss Josephine Reid. Robert Lee Ayers will act as the groom-elect's best man. The bride-elect will be given in marriage by her brother, Henry Gray King.

Little Katherine King and Carol line Reid, nieces of Miss King, will be the dainty ribbon bearers. Little Josephine King, another niece of the bride-elect, will be the flower girl.

Following the ceremony the young couple will leave for a wedding trip to Cuba, where they will be for several weeks. Upon their return to Atlanta they will make their home on Peachtree road.

Russian Cossack Chorus To Give Brilliant Concert December 14

The irresistible "Volga Boatman," sung in costume, and indescribably fascinating tunes will feature the concert to be presented by the Russian Cossack chorus at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday evening, December 14 at Wesley Memorial church. A variety of numbers by the popular composer, Tschalkowsky, will afford something new and real in orchestral effects.

Proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the Oglethorpe university endowment fund, in the effort to match a $250,000 gift to the institution by J. T. Lupton, of Chattanooga, contingent upon a similar gift from the city. The price of admission is $1.

The Cossack chorus, which is under the direction of Sergei Sokoloff, who received his musical education in the Imperial conservatory of Moscow, has delighted audiences in Italy, France, Spain, Yugoslavia, Mexico as well as throughout the United States. The Panama "Star and Herald" made the following comment on a program of the chorus: "Never in the history of Italian music have we had a vocal or concert comparable to that of the Russian Cossack Chorus."

In the music of the chorus the great heart of the country speaks. In their wild and enchanting harmony the soul of Russia expresses nature in her moods of happiness and harshness, the vast snow clad spaces, the laughing streams, which bespeak the triumph and despair of a struggling nation.

At times the full burden of Russia's trouble seems to rest upon the shoulders of these Russian Cossacks, and finds expression in their countenances; there is a sweetness that tells its own story, and there is a fierceness that warrants the name under which they sing.

Sponsors of the concert are: Mesdames E. Rivers, Charles Conklin, John K. Otley, and J. W. Penock.

Miss Brown Weds Bernard Pittman.

Of cordial interest to a large circle of friends is the announcement of the wedding of Miss Edna Brown and Bernard Pittman, the ceremony having been performed Saturday evening at the home of Rev. Robert H. Lamin, 85 Fifth street, N. W.

The charming young bride was gown in midnight blue satin. Her hat was of blue and silver.

Miss Annie Glover, maid of honor, and only attendant, also wore blue satin, with a close-fitting black hat. B. A. Crim acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Pittman will reside in Atlanta.

Mrs. Motz Honors Winthrop Alumnae.

Mrs. Aubrey Motz was hostess to the Atlanta chapter of the Winthrop alumnae at her home on Avery drive Friday afternoon.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. H. T. Hirsch, Mrs. Harry Savage presided. Plans were made for filling Christmas baskets for the poor, as has been done in past years. Mrs. Long and Mrs. Davis were appointed as chairmen to collect and distribute the baskets.

Mrs. W. D. Wills was a visitor. Those present were Mrs. J. P. Whitman, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Harry Savage, Mrs. Earl Crosswell, Mrs. James Sartar, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Lenke, Mrs. Richard Gillespie and Mrs. Motz.

A delicious salad course was served. The next meeting will be January 13 at the home of Mrs. Sartar on Highland drive.

Fulton Chapter, U. D. C., To Give Concert Thursday.

Fulton chapter, U. D. C., will give a concert Thursday evening December 15, at Wesley Memorial church at 8 o'clock. Admission, $2. The following well-known artists will be on the program: Mrs. Lillian Bray, Miss Jo Beth Apperson, Miss Marian Hore, Mrs. C. S. Brooke, Mrs. D. L. Wood, Miss Billie Stocks, Roy Callaway, Miss Margaret Wakefield and Mrs. George Brown.

Mrs. J. R. Wakefield, as chairman of ways and means committee of Fulton chapter, is in charge of the concert.

Miss Gaines Weds John M. Nowell At Quiet Ceremony

Of interest is the announcement by Mrs. Walter Hiram Gaines, of Monroe, of the marriage of her daughter, Ruth, to John Marshall Nowell, which was solemnized December 7. The Rev. W. T. Irvine performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family.

Mrs. Nowell is well known in Atlanta where she made her home for many years. She was actively engaged in musical enterprises, as vice president of the federation of music clubs, a former director of Atlanta Junior Music club and an officer in the Atlanta Music club. She is a member of the Mu Phi Epsilon national honorary music society. As a friend of Monroe she is active in the cultural life of the city, serving as pianist on numerous occasions. She is the director of the music of the First Methodist church.

Mr. Nowell, president of the Farmers' bank of Monroe, is prominent in business and civic activities of that city. As a former mayor of Monroe, he served the city untiringly, devoting himself to its best interests.

After an extended wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Nowell will return to Monroe to make their home.

West End Civic Club To Hear Mrs. George Blake

Mrs. George Blake will address the meeting of the Civic club of West End Wednesday afternoon, December 14, at 3 o'clock at the clubhouse, Mrs. Jesse Many president, presiding. This program has been arranged by the literary committee, of which Mrs. Duree Johnson is chairman, and as a preface introduction it should be stated that Mrs. Blake is the mother of Morgan Blake, sports writer on The Atlanta Journal, who is leader of the Agogo class of the Baptist tabernacle, and numbers his friends by his acquaintances.

Friday evening, December 18, at 8 o'clock, a mock club meeting and vaudeville performance will be put on by a number of the club husbands, and is being sponsored by the advisory board of the club. The members of the Church of the Incarnation have tendered the use of their parish house for this affair and admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. A similar event was presented last year and was a hilarious performance from start to finish. The public is invited.

Nation's Largest
Grape Juice Firm
Is Organized

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, December 12.—United Grape Products, Inc., a Delaware corporation, which will probably be the largest grape juice producer in the country, has been formed to take over the plants and properties of seven grape juice and grape products plants in New York, Michigan and Ohio. The company, with headquarters in Buffalo, will, in addition, contract to take the entire output of grape juice of three other plants and to purchase the surplus grape juice of a fourth important unit.

Plants taken over in their entirety are the Anglo Fruit Products, Inc., Angola, N. Y.; Armour & Co. plant, Mathewau, Mich.; Bass Islands Vineyards company, Sandusky, Ohio; Henry Card company, Fredonia, N. Y.; DuBelle Grape Products company, Siles, Creek, N. Y.; Randall Grape Juice company, Ripley, N. Y.; and the J. Hungerford Smith Grape Juice company, Lawton, Mich.

The grape juice output of the Red Wing company in Fredonia, N. Y., which company is affiliated with the Cudahy interests; the output of the Armour & Co. plant at Westfield, N. Y., and that of the Walmer Grape Products industry at Naples, N. Y., will be purchased. Surplus grape juice of the plant of the Hudson Valley Pure Food Products Co., Inc., at Highland, N. Y., will also be taken, the latter company being a subsidiary of the United Drug company.

Total production capacity will be in excess of 1,000,000 cases annually.

GRIFFIN MERCHANTS
ENJOYING BIG SEASON

Griffin, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Griffin merchants are having one of the best Christmas trades in years. All the stores are gaily decorated for the holiday season and already each one is filled with enthusiastic buyers. Conditions throughout the section appear to be better than they have been in some time and this condition is reflected in the substantial holiday trade each merchant is enjoying.

THE CONNOISSEUR

It's always very funny from the point of observation To see a fellow lose his hat and chase it in vexation. But it's not so very humorous to Mr. Van de View When he's the one who has the act of drollery to do.

He reaches out his hand with that "I have it now" expression While it sails away again upon a maddening depression. And he wonders how the lady who is smiling so demurely Can keep her felt with tiger stripes upon her head securely.

Another one he notices while passing in a hurry— Would never give its wearer the remotest cause for worry. It fits her like the very hair upon her pretty head And he thought at first the dipping stripes were water waves instead.

At last in desperation he completes the comic reel Near a lady in a turban smartly dotted with chenille. To her his acrobatics are amusingly diverting But to Van de View the matter is a trifle disconcerting.

BANDIT SEIZES
WHAT HE NEEDS
AND LEAVES REST

New York, December 12.—A gallant young bandit who believes in stealing no more than he actually needs is sought by the police. "I am a desperate man," he admitted when he walked into a cigar store behind an immense revolver just as Paul Knuch, manager of the store, was getting ready to close for the night. "Open the cash register." When the drawer rolled out the robber calmly counted out $11.60. This he pocketed, leaving $3.14 in the drawer. "That's all I need," he said and left.

SUSPECT IS TAKEN IN M'SWIGGIN
CHICAGO KILLING

Chicago, December 12.—(AP)—The Chicago Daily Journal said today that the police had arrested the man who bought the machine gun with which William McSwiggin, youthful assistant state's attorney, and two others were killed while riding in Cicero, in an automobile two years ago.

The newspaper said the man was a former convict and described him as the missing link for whom the police have hunted in order to connect the machine gun with the actual slaying. The identity of the man was not revealed.

McSwiggin was known as a "hanging prosecutor" because of a long series of convictions carrying the death penalty.

I Have Said in My Heart

BY IDAH M'GLONE GIBSON.

"Come up, tumble up, any way to get up," unmarried women, and form in line on the left: you want to add an able-bodied, good-looking young man with brains with the care of his afflicted sister to your other responsibilities.

All this young man wants, according to a morning paper, is that some woman will marry him and support him and "an afflicted sister." He says he will try to make your life more pleasant.

Here he is with "brains, a good appearance and ability" (ability to do what, he does not say) and only thirty-one.

He seems to think "fate" is holding him down, poor thing, and he has become discouraged to such an extent that he says unless some woman takes pity on him and assures him adequate means of support he intends to kill himself, for he cannot see his sister go to an institution.

This able-bodied young gentleman is placed in this position because his mother—who was probably the bread winner as well as the nurse to the "afflicted sister"—has just died and left the poor, dear boy on his own. He says: "I am sure that in this town there is some poor soul that needs me."

Yes, sure there are lots of poor souls that need you, but they are not women who are looking for husbands.

The street cleaning department may not be the soul of the city government, but it is always in need of men.

The municipal gas and light company is perhaps called a soulless corporation, but at that it is always in the market for someone who can weld a waxy spade.

One might say to this lump of laziness and egotism that the world would never know the difference if he does commit suicide, as he threatens. In fact, one almost hopes it is a promise and not a threat, for the world has no place for shirkers or those who expect to get anything from it except as payment for honest work.

Of course one is very sorry that a young able-bodied man must commit suicide rather than see his sister—for whom friends are now caring—go to an institution, but, personally, I think most women would rather "see" a poor afflicted woman go to a state institution than look upon the face daily of a poor-spirited pusillanimous, who openly acknowledges that he has not the backbone to go out and work to take care of her.

I do not believe in all the United States there is a woman who wants to write "Mrs." in front of her name badly enough for that, so I am going to scrutinize the papers for a suicide.

God rest his soul.

DIET AND HEALTH

BY LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

BLOOD BUILDING AND OVERWEIGHT

Mrs. C.—Unfortunately, there are far too many who believe that in order to build up the blood it is necessary to get fat in the process. It is absolutely untrue. Rather, it is harmful to do so, and this is shown by the fact that not a few, who never were anemic, became anemic when they became overweight.

The starches, sugars and fats are the greatest fat producers, but protein (the meat element in food) in the process of digestion is broken down, and a trifle over one-half the protein matter is a starch; therefore, an excess can also produce fat—if it doesn't cause such an irritation to the kidneys that they become disordered to the extent that fat could not accumulate.

I think that you will be benefitted by going on the scientific reduction diet, Mrs. C. That will include approximately two pounds of fruits and vegetables (and, as you are anemic, you should have a larger share of the vegetables that are highest in iron, especially spinach and chard. And you must have your full allowance of protein food, including eggs and meat—also high in iron—and at least three glasses of skin or buttermilk. Of course, you will have a markedly limit the starches, sugars and fats—fast most. However, I would advise you to reduce slower than the normal case; not over a pound a week, perhaps.

Liver has a blood-making stimulus, and is now used very extensively in anemia, especially in the pernicious type. You should have sunlight baths daily and some moderate exercise.

I regret many times that I am not in private practice, otherwise I would be very glad to take care of you personally, C., as you request. Tell Hubby that he needn't worry about you while you are reducing, if you do it the right way. Naturally, you should be under the personal supervision of a competent physician.

Our instructions on reducing and gaining are contained in a pamphlet, which you may have by sending 10 cents in stamps and a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request. Be sure to know how to take Thyroid Extract, also the amount that is safe to take. She has learned that it is a very dangerous drug. But it will do the trick, won't it?

You are right, R., it will do the trick, and the trick may be to kill you, unless you happen to be a case where the thyroid medication is actually needed, and are very closely observed by a physician.

I take it that you want to reduce and think this is a quick way. Don't use it, R., except under the precautions I have mentioned. You can reduce very safely and safely by following our methods. See answer to Mrs. C. about the directions. Ask also for our article on Thyroid Disturbances.

There is no doubt, W., but that nicotine is a poison, and it is especially harmful in youth. You say you smoke only in moderation. The trouble about this is two-fold: What

THE GUMPS—THERE'S NO LAW AGAINST IT

The Woman in the Case
BY LOUIS TRACY

John Arden, returning to his rooms at the Park Palace hotel, London, in the early hours of the morning, breaks his key in the lock and is given a room in a luxurious suite by the night watchman who assures him that the rooms are unoccupied. He is about to retire when two women enter the apartment. One is addressed as Esmee and the other as Mrs. Sinclair. Arden, hiding, hears them speak of the sudden death of Lord Farndale. Without being observed he lets himself out of the apartment. The next morning he reads of the mysterious death of a peer. A little later he sees Esmee on the street and is not far from her when she is knocked down by a motorcar. Her dress is torn and he offers her his raincoat. She accepts it and he offers to get her a taxi, telling her that they live in the same hotel. Later Arden learns that the police know the identity of the two women who visited Lord Farndale but cannot locate them. They watch the railway terminals. Arden sees Esmee at one of the stations and behind Mrs. Sinclair's back takes her away with him to avoid arrest. Mrs. Sinclair, in fear of being detained as a material witness was about to cross over to Paris with Esmee. Arden takes the girl to the rooms of his friend, Andy Burke, who turns the apartment and his housekeeping over to her. Burke is invited to share Jimmie Davidson's rooms for the night. Before leaving Arden's apartment the three friends and Detective Furzeaux of Scotland Yard, who has joined them, hold a conference in Esmee's behalf.

On leaving Furzeaux suggests to Arden that he call on Mrs. Sinclair, who is back at the Park Palace hotel, before going to bed.

INSTALLMENT XX.
TWO SECONDS OF IMPORTANCE.

Arden had taken care not to breathe a single syllable to Mrs. Sinclair about her own muttered comment as to the girl spoiling "everything" if she were not "handled firmly," although that cryptic comment formed the main factor not only of his dislike of the elder woman but of his keen desire to save Esmee from whatever fate such firm handling might entail. But his words, no less than his self-assured attitude warned a fairly astute adversary that perhaps she had not taken quite the right line with this knight errant. It probably cost her a fierce effort to control her anger, yet she succeeded.

"Surely that is no argument," she said, almost plaintively. "We were both very much upset by our visit to Lord Farndale. We hardly knew what we were saying. I was certain he was dying when we came away, and Esmee suspected it. And what in the world does it matter whether I am her aunt or her only friend? Unless my recollection is at fault, you yourself described her as my niece when you got the hotel people to telephone to my room a few minutes ago. But why quarrel about such a triviality? Do you really persist in your resolve to keep her whereabouts unknown?"

"I certainly do."

"Suppose I refuse to believe you? Why shouldn't I suspect you, too, of vile intentions? This is a land of law and order. The police may be glad to hear something about you, Mr. Arden."

"Phone Victoria 7000," he said. "Shall I wait, or would you prefer to discuss the matter in private with Scotland Yard?"

"Then you must have come to me as a police spy," she cried, shrilly. "No. I was requested to reassure you in regard to Miss Bermore, and I would not have gone an inch beyond my mission, and you not insisted on learning the why and the wherefore of my connection with a somewhat sinister business. I wonder if you are aware that Lord Farndale did not die a natural death—that he was poisoned?"

Evidently this was news to Mrs. Sinclair, but greatly to Arden's surprise she looked rather elated than otherwise. The telephone summoned her. Before she turned to Arden again she gave a curt direction that some one was to be sent up.

"That is the first sensible thing you have said," she declared, then, facing him confidently. "I can only hope it is true, because neither Esmee nor I, at any rate, gave the old wretch any poison. Even that hardened villain, as you regard him, Juan de Braganza, must be innocent, as he has not been in England for several years until today. I think you had better be going now, Mr. Arden. We shall never meet again, I expect. I may hardly thank you for your visit, which was certainly not intended for my benefit, so it must have been inspired by your own self-interest. Can you find your way to the elevator?"

"O, yes," he said politely. "In fact, I live in this hotel, you may remember, or I could not have been present in suite F early this morning."

Having sped that parting shaft he went out. It was tempting to try and hang on until de Braganza arrived and see how he and Mrs. Sinclair met, but he decided against making any effort in that direction. It would probably fail, so why court a rebuff?

Mrs. Sinclair's apartments were on the third floor—his bedroom was on the thirteenth. He did not ring for the lift. It was already ascending, and its destination was fairly sure.

When it stopped and the grille was opened, there emerged a spruce young man in a gray morning suit who could be none other than Juan de Braganza. The oval face, with its olive-tinted skin, full, red lips, quick moving brown eyes and jet black hair stamped him as of the southern Latin race. He was about 30 years of age, slimly built, handsome in the wax figure style, and very well dressed. He showed no outward sign of any recent accident. Indeed, Arden was bound to admit that one whom he regarded as a wretched schemer bore all the hallmarks of an admitted member of society, whether in his own country or in the larger world.

The Englishman, prepared to find de Braganza in the lift, had the advantage over one who knew nothing of him. A couple of seconds can be most useful in such a situation. He stood aside in a shadow, apparently out of politeness, entered the lift quickly, and was being shot to the top of the building before the stranger could have secured a good look at him, even had he wished to do anything of the sort. It is often the trivial events which count, and the day was not far distant when those two seconds of recognition gained that night would weigh down the balance of a scale hovering between life and death. Perhaps Arden, with his soldierly aptitude for lightninglike decision in an emergency, exercised some intuitive sense of threatened danger. de Braganza, on the other hand, saw merely one of two hundred people then resident in the hotel, any one of whom he might have encountered in a corridor. He, at least, did not recognize a potential enemy as he passed rapidly on his way. At the same time Arden was engaged in compiling a précis of a lively but somewhat unenlightening conversation.

Indeed, the written record proved quite disappointing. He went to bed not pleased with himself. He fancied that he had learned nothing of real value. The experience reminded him of a weary night on the western front near Arras when he and a color sergeant, after a nerve-racking crawl over two hundred yards of shellholes and thirty yards of trip wire and entanglements, peered into a German trench and found it deserted. The Boches might be twenty feet or half a mile away. Neither he nor the N. C. O. could tell, and they dared not advance another inch, because dawn was breaking already, as they knew by the curious luminosity of an occasional shell dropping high in air from a German battery miles behind the line. Was the position being held, or had the Hun evacuated it? The daring observers could not be sure. Similarly now, who should say whether Mrs. Sinclair was a frightened adventuress or a woman who felt righteously indignant because her plans had gone awry? Certainly not he, John Arden.

He slept soundly for all that, and was duly elated when Andy Burke's obsequy voice announced over the phone the next morning that the breaker would be served at the flat at half-past nine sharp. It seemed that Furzeaux had rung up and asked for an earlier hour because the inquest on Lord Farndale would open at 11 and he wished to be present.

"He's a merry mannikin, that 'ee," chorled Andy. "Told me that breakfast and dinner was his solemn moments, and he refused to be hurried over them. There's something in the notion, laddie. We must try it during the next war. Anyhow, don't be late, whatever happens."

New York, December 12.—(AP)—The newest movement of bonds today appeared to have lost its force today.

Prices were steady, mostly because of continued easy money conditions, but trading showed signs of tapering off.

The day's new issues were nominal in volume, offering comparatively little competition to the listed market.

Several of the railroad issues which were being moved steadily forward were a shade lower. It was not believed, however, that the small recesses resulted especially from the St.

Paul & Northern Pacific's new issue, since there was a feeling that this case would be taken to the supreme court and that before it is disposed of finally, favorable alterations in the transportation act might be brought about. Florida East Coast and Southern Railway also inclined to heaviness, but firmness continued to rule the Erie group, general lines reaching a new peak, while the St.

Paul's touched their previous high.

Brooklyn Manhattan Transit's were in fair demand, probably because of discussion looking to a re-evaluation of the subway and elevated lines. Brooklyn Union Gas

5 1/2 and Brooklyn-Queens' adjustments, point of view, however, there was little interest in either the public utility or industrial groups.

Federal government obligations were generally lower. Third Liberty 1-4s changed hands in large numbers without change from Saturday's close, and Liberty 3 1/2-2s again sold at their year's high.

Some of the foreign group,

many of the German issues were lower and there was some selling of Mexican bonds. French securities were firm.

The Day in Finance

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, December 12.—Industrial shares were strong on the unfilled report of the United States Steel corporation, showing a larger increase than was expected. But the market was not without its share of the usual fluctuations of the day. The market was not without its share of the usual fluctuations of the day. High Lights in the Cotton Market

BY THEO. H. PRICE
Editor of Commerce and Finance

New York, December 12.—It is said that the cartoonist of Punch drew a picture of Sir W. S. Gilbert, the librettist of so many popular comic operas, standing on his head as he worked, in order to suggest how his plots and dialogue achieved their topsy-turvy character. If a truthful cartoon could be drawn of the cotton market during the past 90 days it would have to be shown on its head, for its reaction to the four government crop reports, the eight ginning reports and the three consumption reports that have appeared during that time has been no less topsy-turvy than that of Gilbert's cartoon.

Supplies and Producers

ATLANTA

Chicago, December 12.—Influenced by the fact that a decrease in the United States supply was not as large as expected, wheat values declined today. Besides, the export business had, for the most part, flattened out, and Argentine crop news was bearish.

Former Page Boy Pays Record Price for Exchange Seat

New York, December 12.—(P)—William J. Baroni, former stock market page boy, today was revealed as the purchaser of a seat on the stock exchange at the record price of $310,000.

New Haven Road Asks Approval for Stock Issue

Washington, December 12.—(P)—The New Haven railroad sought approval of the Interstate Commerce commission today for an issue of 390,000 shares of new common stock.
